THE CHOLERA

Is defective vitilization of the blood, and when the blood loses its

It causes relaxation of the contractile powers of the blood vessels of the body, and the intestines open their myriad blood vessels, and all the albuminous or flesh-making material passes off from the bowels.

PURE AND HEALTHY BLOOD RESISTS DISEASE, and while there may be no occasion for alarm, those of impure blood are most liable to suffer.

of the worst disorders that affect mankind arise from the corruption that accumulates in the blood. Of all the discoveries that have been made to purge it out, none can equal in effect Helmbold's Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla. It cleanses and renovates the blood, instils the vigor of health into the system, and purges out the humors which make disease. It stimulates the healthy functions of the body, and expels the disorders that grow and rankle in the blood.

Scrofulous, mercurial and syphilitic diseases destroy whatever part they may attack. THOUSANDS DIE ANNUALLY from protracted diseases of this class, and from the abuse of mercury. Visit any hospital, asylum or prison, and satisfy yourself of the truthfulness of the assertion. The system best resists the inroads of these diseases by a judicious combination of Tonics.

HELMBOLD'S

is a Tonic of the greatest value—arresting the most inveterate diseases after the glands are destroyed and the bones already affected. This is the testimony of thousands who have used and prescribed it for the last sixteen years.

AN INTERESTING LETTER is published in the Medico Chirurgical Review, on the subject of the extract of Sarsaparilla in venereal affections, by Benjamin Travers, F. R. S., &c. Speaking of Syphilis, and diseases arising from the excess of mercury, he states: "That no remedy is equal to the Extract of Sarsaparilla; its power is extraordinary, more so than any other drug I am acquainted with. It is in the strictest sense a tonic, with this invaluable attribute, that it is applicable to a state of the system so sunken and yet so irritable as renders other substances of the tonic class unavailable or injurious."

TWO TABLESPOONFULS of the Extract of Sarsaparilla added to a pint of water, are equal to the Lisbon Diet Drink, and one bottle is fully equal to a gallon of the Syrup of Sarsaparilla, or the decoction as usually made.

The decoction is exceedingly troublesome, as it is necessary to prepare it fresh every day, and the syrup is still more objectionable, as it is weaker than the decoction; for a fluid saturated with sugar is susceptible of holding in solution much less extractive matter than water alone, and the syrup is otherwise objectionable, for the patient is frequently nauseated, and the stomach surfeited by the large proportion of sugar taken with each dose of Sarsaparilla, and which is of no use whatever, except to keep the decoction from spoiling. Here the advantages and superiority of the Fluid Extract in a comparative view are strikingly manifest.

THE FRENCH IN MEXICO.

The official documents on the subject of the evacuation of Mexico by the French have just been printed by the Government Printing Bureau. The principal papers appeared in the newspapers last Tuesday morning. But in addition to that information it may be interesting to learn that M. DROUYN DE LHUYS informed Minister BIGELOW in January that the French Government had no intention to take Egyptian troops to Mexico, but that it adhered entirely to the policy heretofore announced to our Minister on that subject.

On Mr. BIGELOW'S asking him if he could give an idea of the guarantees which he hoped to obtain from Mexico, M. DROUYN DE LHUYS replied they did not, of course, expect to get all the money owing them, but they hoped for something which they might regard as an equivalent; that, however, was a matter of negotiation between them and Mexico.

Mr. BIGELOW says: "I then asked whether it would not be possible, in some way, to arrest the useless and demoralizing warfare that was carried on in Mexico between MAXIMILIAN and the Juarists, at least while these negotiations were going on; that is, while the French occupation should last." He said he wished there was; that the atrocities practiced were really too dreadful to speak of; but he did not know that he could do anything to discourage them, and asked if I had anything to suggest. I said I supposed that if the Juarists were sure that the French were intending to leave Mexico within a short time, which seemed reasonable to them, and that they would then have a fair chance of trying conclusions with MAXIMILIAN'S party, they would be willing to leave him undisturbed by him; and that if France or MAXIMILIAN had any indirect means of coming to such an understanding with JUAREZ, it might render the situation less embarrassing to all parties.

His Excellency replied that he would be very glad if that were practicable, as it would enable them to leave the country so much the sooner, but they had no means of communicating with JUAREZ; and he asked me if I could suggest any mode of accomplishing what I proposed. I replied that we had relations, as he was aware, with Señor ROMERO, and anything that he would authorize me to say we should be most happy to say, of course, that would have a tendency to terminate their brutalizing strife. His Excellency promised to speak of this, and also the form of the "assurance" which we had been discussing to the Emperor.

DEBATE ON THE NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD BILL.

After a four days' contest of most able and animated discussion, the bill to guarantee the interest on the stock of the Northern Pacific Railroad was laid on the table this afternoon by a snap-judgment movement of Judge SPALDING, of Ohio. Mr. STEVENS made the concluding speech in favor of the bill, and an able one it was, and Gen. BANKS arose and desired to follow on the same side, but Mr. PRICE, the Chairman of the Pacific Railroad Committee, desired to move the previous question. Instead of so doing instantly, however, and thus keeping the matter within his own control, and compelling a vote on the straight proposition, he engaged in a parley with Gen. BANKS, when the movement to lay on the table was made, and the previous question demanded on that, which resulted in the final defeat of the bill by seventy-six to lay on the table and fifty-six against. Mr. PRICE, Chairman of the Railroad Committee, who reported the bill, gave its opponents the freest opportunity for discussion, and some strong points were made against the bill on the ground of public economy. Mr. D. A. WELLS' able letter to the Secretary of the Treasury on the condition of the revenue and the effect of increasing the public debt was also used against the project with effect. It is probable, however, that it will again be brought forward in some modified form, as there are very strong commercial influences engaged in promoting the enterprise.

MRS. JEFFERSON DAVIS.

The statement telegraphed last night that the President had refused permission to Mrs. JEFFERSON DAVIS to visit her husband was founded on the representation of an intimate friend of that lady; but on inquiry to-day it was ascertained beyond question that the request has since been granted, and the proper facilities will be afforded for that purpose.

NAVAL CONTRACTORS.

The bill which passed the Senate to-day to indemnify the private contractors for losses in building certain iron vessels and machinery, involves the amount of about $1,100,000, or about one-half of the sum in the original bills. The contractors are forty-two in number, and are to be paid not more than 12 per cent. above their contract prices, with the exception of DONOHUE, RYAN and SECOR, the builders of the Camanche, who are to receive the full amount of the award.

THE INTERNAL REVENUE.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue has decided that all expenses for insurance upon property, and all actual losses in business, may be deducted from the gross income of the year; but losses sustained after Dec. 31, 1865, cannot reduce the income for that year. Losses incurred in the prosecution of one kind of business may be deducted from the gains in another, but not from the portions of income derived from fixed investments such as bonds, mortgages, rents and the like. The Assessor should also be careful not to allow the deduction of amounts claimed to have been lost in business, when in reality they should be regarded as investments or expenditures, as when merchants expend money in farming or gardening, for recreation or adornment rather than pecuniary profit. Persons traveling about the country as agents of manufacturers, or dealers seeking orders for goods as agents for one person or firms only such as salaried clerks, or men hired by the month, should not be required to take licenses as commercial brokers.

All parts of decision number 159 inconsistent herewith are hereby revoked.

THE AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT—THE CATTLE PLAGUE.

The report of the Department of Agriculture for the month of March has just been published. Mr. ISAAC NEWTON, the Commissioner, says: "The United States Consul at Hamburg has notified the Secretary of State of his refusal to allow the importation of a lot of hides to this country, which he has reason to believe came from places where the disease prevails. The importation of crockery, or queensware, may bring it here by the infection of the straw used in packing it in the crates. In many ways, therefore, the liability of its introduction is great, and this Department has brought the matter to the consideration of Congress in order that an act may be passed providing for a cordon around every case that might arise through importation in the United States. He says further he is clearly of the opinion that there is no more danger of the trichine disease now than there has been any previous year. The statements relative to the present condition of the crops are, as is usual at this time of the year, conflicting. But it is believed that while the severe cold has killed the tops of the wheat unprotected generally by snow, the roots have not been killed, nor subjected to leaving out to the extent usual in some Winters as apprehended, by many persons.

RELIEF OF NAVAL CONTRACTORS.

To the surprise of most of the well-advised persons here the Senate to-day, by a vote of 22 to 11, passed the bill for the relief of certain naval contractors, commonly known as the "Iron-clad bill." There are some meritorious claims included in the list, but there are others which it is said cannot be classed with the former, and will not bear the test of thorough and critical examination. Be this as it may, it is regarded as strange that the Senate should have been willing to adopt a general rule or fixed sum of increase of pay to apply to all the cases where relief is asked. The bill now goes to the House, where it is confidently believed the wide awake "watch dogs" of the Treasury will present the measure in a different and less favorable aspect than it assumed in the Senate. We commend this three-million-dollar expenditure of the public money to the tender mercies of Messrs. WASHBURNE and WENTWORTH, of Illinois.

A CASE OF CONSCIENCE.

In this day of speculation and plunder of the public Treasury, it is refreshing to be able to record a case where a Government official declines to receive any but the regular fees or salary of his office. One instance of the refreshing kind came to the knowledge of the Secretary of the Treasury to-day. WALTER C. DURFEE, Esq., Collector of Fall River, Mass., sends to the Secretary $100 to be deposited in the Treasury for public good. This sum is the moiety of the Collector, awarded to him in a case of information for infringement of the Internal Revenue Law. Mr. MCCULLOCH acknowledges the receipt of the money, and thanks Mr. DURFEE for his commendable regard for public interest.

CORRECTION.

An error in the types occurred in the list of appointments by the President, published in this morning's TIMES. Col. B. H. BRISTOW—not Brewster—is appointed to be United States District-Attorney for Kentucky.

NOMINATIONS.

The President sent to the Senate to-day a large number of nominations for confirmation. These nominations are all for offices of minor importance.

NO MORE TEMPORARY LOANS.

There are now about $170,000,000 in the public Treasury, and, as stated in my dispatch last night, the Secretary of the Treasury believes that the time has come when the Government should no longer receive temporary loans. The following circular was issued to-day by Mr. MCCULLOCH:

TREASURY DEPARTMENT, April 27, 1866.

Notice is hereby given, that on the 15th day of May, 1866, the interest on all certificates of deposit on account of temporary loan other than issued for Clearing-house purposes, then outstanding and unpaid, will be reduced to the uniform rate of five per cent. per annum from that date; and all persons then holding such certificates in which a higher rate of interest is specified, are requested to present the same to the officers by whom issued, that other certificates may be substituted therefor.

H. MCCULLOCH, Secretary of the Treasury.

THIRTY-NINTH CONGRESS.

FIRST SESSION.

SENATE....FRIDAY, April 27.

PETITIONS.

Mr. WILSON introduced a petition asking an increase of rank and pay for hospital Stewards in the regular army. Referred to the Military Committee.

THE WEST INDIES TELEGRAPH.

The bill to establish telegraphic communication between the United States and Cuba was taken up on a question of concurring in certain House amendments, one of which limits the price of telegraphing to $3 50 for ten words, and another gives the Government the right to use the line at all times free of charge.

Mr. CONNESS hoped the Senate would not concur in the amendments. The price was altogether too high—$3 50 for ten words for a hundred miles.

Mr. MORRILL said the right to amend the bill was inherent in it, and if the charge was found too high, it could be reduced at some future time. It was only provided in the House amendment that the rate should not exceed $3 50 for ten words.

Mr. SHERMAN said that within a year or two there would be an entire revolution in the telegraphic system. Telegraphing was a luxury enjoyed by the few. The money paid in a year for telegraphic dispatches was equal to the cost of all the telegraph lines in the country. He believed that in a short time the Government would own and control all the telegraph lines in the country.

Mr. MORRILL did not doubt that the good time was coming when the Government would have possession of the telegraphs, but he did not see how it was to be done, or where the power was to come from.

The Senate then, on motion, refused to concur in the House amendments, and called for a Committee of Conference.

THE SOLDIERS' ASYLUM.

Mr. WILSON offered a resolution to grant the use of the Senate Chamber on Thursday evening, May 3, to JAMES E. MURDOCK, to give readings in aid of the fund for the establishment of a National Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphan Asylum. Mr. WILSON asked for the immediate consideration of the resolution.

Mr. RIDDLE—I am in favor of the object in view, but——

The Chair—It requires unanimous consent to consider the resolution. Does the Senator from Delaware object to its present consideration?

Mr. RIDDLE—I object.

The Chair—Objection being made, the resolution lies over.

THE RELIEF OF NAVAL CONTRACTORS.

The special order of the day, the bill for the relief of certain naval contractors, was taken up.

The pending question was on the motion of Mr. HENDERSON to postpone the bill till the first Monday in December.

Messrs. HENDRICKS and NYE spoke in favor of the bill, and Messrs. CLARK and RIDDLE against it, and the discussion occupied three hours.

On the motion to postpone the bill until December, the roll was called, and the vote stood 11 yeas against 25 nays, as follows:

YEAS—Messrs. Clark, Davis, Doolittle, Guthrie, Henderson, Howe, Kirkwood, Riddle, Sherman, Trumbull, Wade—11.

NAYS—Messrs. Anthony, Chandler, Conness, Cragin, Foster, Grimes, Harris, Hendricks, Howard, Johnson, McDougal, Morgan, Morrill, Nesmith, Nye, Poland, Pomeroy, Ramsey, Sprague, Stewart, Sumner, Van Winkle, Willey, Williams, Wilson—25.

Mr. HENDERSON then moved to recommit the bill and amendments to the Committee on Naval Affairs.

Mr. CONNESS hoped it would be recommitted to the Committee on Claims.

Mr. DAVIS suggested that the Committee be instructed to report separately upon each case.

The Senate refused to recommit the bill by a vote of 13 yeas against 33 nays.

The bill was then passed.

It provides as follows:

SECTION 1. That the Secretary of the Treasury be directed to pay, out of the money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, to the several parties the awards made in their favor by the Naval Board, organized under the resolution of the Senate adopted March 9, 1865; the awards being made under date of December 23, 1865, and reported to the Secretary of the Navy; provided, that the payment shall not in any case exceed twelve per centum upon the contract price, except in the case of the Camanche, in which case the award shall be paid in full.

SEC. 2. That in the cases of DONALD MCKAY, of Boston, who built the Ashuelot and machinery, and MILES GREENWOOD, of Cincinnati, who built the Tippecanoe, whose contracts have been completed to the satisfaction of the Department, and who were prevented from appearing before the Naval Board, shall be entitled to the same rate of compensation as is authorized to be paid to other parties building the same class of vessels and machinery, and such payment to be made to them out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, under the supervision and direction of the Secretary of the Navy; provided the evidence submitted for his examination fully establishes the right of said persons to such amount of compensation.

SEC. 3. That the sums named shall be in full for all claims of said parties in said contracts.

A CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT.

Mr. WILSON offered a joint resolution for the following amendment to the Constitution:

No payment shall ever be made by the United States, or any State, for or on account of the emancipation of any slave or slaves, or for or on account of any debt contracted or incurred in aid of insurrection against the United States.

Representatives shall be apportioned among the several States which may be included within this Union according to their respective numbers, counting the whole number of persons in each State; but whenever in any State the elective franchise shall be denied to any of its inhabitants, being male citizens of the United States above the age of 21 years, for any cause except insurrection or rebellion against the United States, the basis of representation in such State shall be reduced in the proportion which the number of male citizens so excluded shall bear to the whole number of male citizens over 21 years of age.

The second clause of the resolution provides that whenever any of the States lately in rebellion shall ratify the foregoing article, the Senators and Representatives from such State or States shall be admitted into Congress.

The resolution was ordered to be printed.

The Senate adjourned at 5:30, to meet on Monday.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

THE SOUTHERN LEGISLATURES AND THE FREEDMEN.

Mr. KASSON offered a resolution, which was adopted, requesting the President of the United States to cause to be communicated to the House a collation of the provisions in reference to the freedmen contained in the amended Constitutions of the Southern States and in the laws passed by those States since the overthrow of the rebellion so far as information on that subject may be in his possession.

PETITIONS.

Mr. ANCONA reported back adversely a large number of petitions from army officers, which were laid on the table.

The House then proceeded, as the regular business in order during the morning hour, to the consideration of the Committee reports on bills of a private character.

PRIVATE CLAIMS.

Mr. WASHBURNE, of Massachusetts, and Messrs. THORNTON, DELANO, WARD, MCKEE and WASHBURNE, of Indiana, reported a number of cases from the Committee on Claims:

The following bills reported by them were considered and passed, viz.: For the relief of MONROE YOUNG; for the relief of EDWARD P. MCKINNEY, of Binghamton, N. Y.; for the relief of Rev. HESTON H. PIERCE; for the relief of the owners of the bark Maria Henry, of Portland, Me.; to amend the act of June 25, 1864, to provide for the payment of horses and other property destroyed in the military service of the United States; for the relief of FRANCIS A. GIBBONS; the Senate joint resolution authorizing the Secretary of the Treasury to adjust the claims of BEALLS and DIXON against the United States; for the relief of ELISHA J. HOUSE, Assessor of Internal Revenue for the Second District of Michigan; referring the claim of SWAIN and HOWARD for damages from collision of their vessel with a vessel belonging to the United States, to the Court of Claims; for the benefit of HENRY HORNE; for the relief of NATHAN NOYES.

The Senate bill for the relief of GOLDSMITH BROTHERS, of San Francisco, Cal., and Portland, Oregon, was reported back, and referred to the Committee of the Whole.

The Senate joint resolution, referring the petition and papers in the case of JAMES CRUKHELL to the Court of Claims, was indefinitely postponed.

Mr. WASHBURNE, of Illinois, from the Committee on Commerce, reported a bill for the relief of CHARLES BREWER & CO., of Boston, appropriating $3,530 for the passage on board the Hawaiian bark Kamehameha II. of sixty-eight destitute seamen of American vessels burned by the Anglo-Confederate vessel Shenandoah, from Ascension Island to Honolulu.

The morning hour having expired, the bill went over until next Friday.

THE INTERNAL REVENUE ACT.

Mr. MORRILL gave notice that the bill to amend the Internal Revenue Act would not be called up until Monday week.

THE NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD.

The House then resumed the consideration of the Northern Pacific Railroad Bill, and the Clerk read the substitute offered by Mr. STEVENS, as modified by him.

The modifications consist of the following:

Strike out section third, and insert an addition to section two, as follows:

And upon the failure on the part of the Company for the period of ninety days to pay the interest on said stock as the same may mature and become due, the Treasurer of the United States may have power to sell so much of the said lands so reserved as aforesaid, at public auction, or private sale, as will reimburse the Government for the payment of said interest; Provided, that said lands shall not be sold for less than two dollars and fifty cents per acre.

Add to the proviso at the end of the bill the following:

Provided further, That at least three-fourths of the Board of Directors shall always be citizens of the United States; And provided further, that the Government shall not be called upon to pay the interest on the cost of construction of more than fifty miles of said road for the first year, nor for more than one hundred miles additional for the second year, nor for more than two hundred miles additional for the third year, nor for more than two hundred miles additional for the fourth year; and after that time on no more than than three hundred additional miles per year, till such road is completed.

Mr. BINGHAM addressed the House in support of the bill. He said that the substitute just read removed and silenced every objection urged by gentlemen who had spoken against the adoption of the measure. The bill should receive the vote of every member of the House. It was the duty of statesmanship to develop all the resources of the nation and to enable the nation to lay its hand on the uncounted commerce of the great East, by becoming the carrier of that immense trade by the shortest possible route.

Mr. ROGERS next made an argument in support of the bill. He declared that there was no fraud or taint of fraud upon the bill, and there should be no imputation on the character of gentlemen who were here urging its passage. The two gentlemen from Ohio (DELANO and SHELLABARGER) had told the House that they had been informed that the original owners of the charter had sold out, and he would like to know how they happened to have so much information unless they, themselves, had come in close contact with the powerful lobby which was employed in attempts to defeat the passage of this bill. We hurled back the insinuation into the teeth of those who charged lobby influence in favor of the bill, and protested that a most gigantic influence was at work to defeat it. The gentleman from Illinois (Mr. WASHBURNE) who was so very anxious at this time to defend the Treasury, had not talked about the "depletion of the Treasury" when that most obnoxious, wicked and pernicious measure, the Freedmen's Bureau Bill, which, would cost the Government fifty millions of dollars a year, was before the House.

Mr. DRIGGS next addressed the House in support of the bill. He regarded the matter as a national work of great importance, and one which members from all sections of the country should sustain.

Mr. GRINNELL followed on the same side. The immense grant of land, he said, owned by the Company was not worth more than so much moonshine or clear sky—not worth a penny an acre without access to it by railroad. No man was rich enough to own it and pay taxes on it without access to it. Although the Central Pacific Railroad passed his door he was willing to have the Northern road also constructed, and as many other railroads to the Pacific as could be built.

Mr. WRIGHT addressed the House in opposition to the measure, which he denominated a sort of gift enterprise, where much was promised and very little performed. He thought it was extremely dangerous for the Government to become god-father to all these railroad enterprises. He contended that Congress had no right to give away the national domain, and likened the attempt to the occasion when the devil brought the Saviour to the top of an exceeding high mountain, from which he showed him much property, and offered him a very large tract of public land; but our Saviour knew that the devil did not own it, and said to him, "Get thee behind me, Satan." He did not expect so much conscientiousness, however, from this railroad company, which would take all the land offered, although Congress had no right to give it away. He thought that the soldiers were far better entitled to the bounty of Congress than this railroad company; and he intimated that he had some idea of inviting the Camden and Amboy Railroad Company to come and get its share of the public lands.

Mr. BROOMALL next addressed the House. He said he had received by mail this morning a circular from the Treasury Department, the reading of which had caused him much discomfort. The purport of the circular was that in consequence of the enormous indebtedness of the Government and the heavy taxation imposed on the people, it was utterly impossible for the Government to equalize the bounties of the soldiers. Many members had come to Congress with a fixed determination not to adjourn without passing that most righteous measure, and he was still not without hope that the Secretary of the Treasury might be mistaken. But he would not allow himself to give a vote in this House which should tie up his hands from voting for that measure. After reading the Secretary's circular, he came to the House this morning, not at all disposed to vote away to a private corporation sixty millions of dollars nearly, half of what would be required to equalize the bounties of soldiers. The bill, he said, pointed out the means by which this money was to be got out of the Treasury; but he saw a mighty small chance of its being got back into the Treasury again. The original bill was so drawn up as to make no provision for the money being paid up, and he believed that that was never intended. The alterations made in the bill by his colleague (STEVENS) had not helped the bill much. It had only covered up the bad intention of the person who had drafted the bill. He had inquired all day yesterday as to who had drafted the bill, and had not been able to find it out.

Mr. HARDING, of Illinois, followed in a speech against the bill. He declared his unwillingness to add a dollar to the obligations of the country, except for a measure of very great national importance.

Mr. HARDING denied that this was a great national measure—it was but a great individual speculation. The country was no more interested in building a railroad from Lake Superior to Pugets Sound than in any other portion of the country. If development by the construction of railroads was to be held a national business, then he understood things differently from the way he used to understand them—and he denied that leadership (looking toward Mr. STEVENS,) which would lead him far from the position which the people had assumed and sustained in the past. He honored that gentleman, (STEVENS,) but he begged him to believe that the country did not need the work. He had helped to build railroads, and had learned that there must be a large way business and a large population on the line of travel to make them pay. There were two good scriptural principles—one to "owe no man anything," and the other to "go not security for others." On these two principles Congress could legislate safely. He expected to vote to equalize the bounties of the brave men who had gone into the army in 1861 and 1862. Cost what it might he would do so. He would not have it said that in preference to their claim he had voted an indorsement for the benefit of some gentlemen who are engaged on railroads. [Laughter.] What the country wanted to develop was its population. Illinois was not one-fourth developed. He did not want railroads built to drain the States of their population or to make homes for Europeans in hyperborean regions. They would be far better off in the rich prairies of Illinois.

Mr. STEVENS addressed the House in support of the bill. He said that this question, like all national questions, ought not to be discussed or decided either by buffoonery or vulgar denunciation. Such things were out of place in the consideration of a question of great national importance. There were large minds which could take in the whole nation, and there were small ones, which could see only the interests of Delaware County and other localities. This was a subject worthy to command the deepest consideration. When the facts, which had been grossly perverted, were set right before the House, he should be willing to leave the question to the cool and sober judgment and candid action of the American Congress.

Mr. STEVENS sent to the Clerk's desk, and had read a letter from J. GREGORY SMITH, President of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company, in reply to a letter of inquiry written by him.

The letter showed that the Company was organized on the 7th of December, 1864, in accordance with the provisions of the charter; that its present Board of Directors—J. Gregory Smith, St. Albans, Vt.; Gnalow Stearns, Concord, N. H.; George Stark, Nashua, N. H.; R. D. Race, Augusta, Me.; Edward S. Solley, George C. Richardson, James C. Converse, Benjamin T. Cheney, and George H. Gordon, of Boston; Frank Fuller, George Briggs, and Philander Reed, of New-York; and L. D. M. Sweet, of Portland, Me.; that the changes in the Board of Directors had been effected at the solicitation of the members of the old Board, who had been unable to obtain the confidence of capitalists; and that if this bill was passed the stock would acquire a value which would induce capitalists to invest in the enterprise.

Mr. STEVENS asked Mr. BANKS to inform the House of the character of the gentlemen who composed the Board of Directors.

Mr. BANKS said he would not interrupt the gentleman in his speech, but would like to make a few remarks after he got through.

Mr. STEVENS, in discussing the question as to the importance of the measure, said he believed that the country through which the road was to pass was the richest mineral region on the face of the globe. It contained more solid acres of gold, silver, cinnabar and other precious metals, than any other portion of the United States, or the world. Its soil was richer than that even of the beautiful garden spot of his own country, highly as it was cultivated. All along the Red River settlement, to the Selkirk settlement, Spring wheat came to perfection at the rate of sixty bushels to the acre, a thing unheard of in Pennsylvania and most of the States. The smaller kinds of corn produced from sixty to seventy bushels to the acre, and in the production of grass it was unrivaled. The very fact that that country was unsettled was an argument with him for granting this Government aid to build a railroad through it. The great civilizer of modern times, and the great agent of peopling a country, was the railroad. How had Rome grown in magnificence by the opening of her Appian way, and other great roads leading to her provinces. A part of the scheme of this Company was to bring emigrants from Europe, first as laborers to build this railroad, and then to purchase the land. One of the directors, a large shipping merchant in Boston, had informed him that he was preparing a line of vessels to send to the North of Europe to take from Germany, from Norway, and from Scotland, this very season, a large number of emigrants to plant along the line of the railroad, and, if the bill failed, it would be the destruction, not only of the railroad, but of that shipping enterprise. He prayed to God that the great Western country would soon be filled up, to be a counterpoise to the rebellious South, whose representatives would otherwise prevent Congress doing anything to interfere with their prejudice.

Mr. WASHBURNE, of Illinois, said, referring to the speech of Mr. ROGERS, that he (Mr. WASHBURNE) was the victim of misplaced confidence. He had certainly understood the gentleman from New-Jersey, the day before yesterday, to be against the bill. He had come to his (Mr. WASHBURNE'S) desk and talked to him about it.

Some members called attention to the fact that Mr. ROGER'S was not in the Hall, whereupon Mr. WASHBURNE discontinued his remarks.

Mr. STEVENS suggested that that had nothing to do with the bill; it was a thing which very few gentlemen would ever have mentioned.

Mr. BANKS, in reference to the question asked him by Mr. STEVENS, as to the character of the gentlemen composing the Board of Directors, said they were certainly most excellent men, among the best representatives of the people of the East, as especially of the City of Boston. There were no more honorable men in the country, none more interested in the welfare of the Government and the people. He could not, in answering a question like this, express his views as to the interest of the Eastern people in the completion of this work, which had been under discussion. If the House would allow him, he would like to make some suggestion.

Mr. WASHBURNE, of Illinois, hoped the House would let the gentleman from Massachusetts proceed with his remarks, and would allow some member to reply to them.

Mr. PRICE said that the objection to that was that there were many members wanting to speak on the question, and that the matter must be brought to a vote to-day.

The Speaker informed Mr. BANKS that he still had three minutes left of the time of Mr. STEVENS.

Mr. BANKS said that would not be sufficient for him. Both of his colleagues, who represented the City of Boston, Messrs. RICE and HOOPER, were absent, and in the course of the discussion constant reference had been made to the capitalists of Boston, and especially to those of them who were interested in this road. It would be unjust if no voice should be heard from that city in explanation of the position which those gentlemen occupied, and he thought that the gentleman who had charge of the bill (Mr. PRICE) should allow him some time.

Mr. PRICE said that after the previous question was seconded he would be entitled to an hour to close the debate, and he would yield part of his time to Mr. BANKS.

Mr. CONKLING asked whether Mr. BANKS could not be recognized by the Speaker now, and permitted to proceed at his pleasure.

The Speaker replied that the gentleman from Illinois (Mr. WASHBURNE) objected.

Mr. PRICE said he did not want to shield himself behind the gentleman from Illinois. There were fifty members urging a vote on the bill, and after the previous question was sustained, he would be very willing to give the gentleman from Massachusetts nearly all the time. He now moved the previous question.

Mr. SPALDING moved that the bill and pending amendment be laid on the table.

Questions of order having been raised as to whether Mr. PRICE could be thus cut out of his right to close the debate, the motion to lay on the table being undebatable, the Speaker decided that although it was the understanding of the House that the gentleman from Iowa was to close the debate, and although a motion to lay on the table was a very rare one under such circumstances, yet the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. SPALDING) had the right to make that motion.

Mr. PRICE asked whether he had not the right to the floor for one hour.

The Speaker replied that if the gentleman from Ohio insisted on the motion, that cut off all debate.

Mr. SPALDING did insist on his motion, and called for the yeas and nays on it.

Mr. CONKLING remarked that he thought it quite as proper for him to be cut off, as it was for him to cut off the gentleman from Massachusetts (BANKS).

Mr. PRICE retorted in an impetuous and excited manner, that he had offered to give part of his time to the gentleman from Massachusetts, and that the gentleman from New-York was not to suppose that he had control of this House. When he had it would be time enough for him to talk in that way, and to attempt to dictate to other members.

The question was taken on the motion to lay on the table, intense interest being manifested as it became evident that the motion was to succeed, and the vote resulted in 76 yeas against 56 nays, as follows:

YEAS—Messrs. Ancona, Baker, Berryman, Bergen, Blow, Boyer, Broomwell, Buckland, Bundy, Chanler, Clark of Ohio, Cobb, Conkling, Cook, Cullom, Defrees, Delano, Deming, Dennison, Dumont, Eggleston, Eldridge, Farnsworth, Farquhar, Finck, Glossbrenner, Grider, Hale, Harding of Kentucky, Harding of Illinois, Hayes, Hubbard of Connecticut, Hubbell of Ohio, Humphreys, Jencks, Julian, Kasson, Ketchum, Latham, Lawrence of Pennsylvania, Lawrence of Ohio, Le Blond, Marshall, Miller, Moorhead, Morrill, Morris, Moulton, Newell, Niblack, Nicholson, Orth, Pike, Plants, Randall of Pennsylvania, Randall of Kentucky, Ross, Sawyer, Scofield, Shanklin, Shellabarger, Spalding, Stillwell, Tabor, Taylor, Thayer, Francis, Thomas, Thornton, Ward, Washburne of Illinois, Washburn of Massachusetts, Wentworth, Williams, Winfield, Wright—76.

The following pairs were announced: Messrs. BLAINE and J. L. THOMAS, DIXON and ELLIOT, HUBBELL, of New-York, and BALDWIN, O'NEILL and SITGREAVES, WHALEY and SMITH, INGERSOLL and WALKER.

Mr. WRIGHT moved to reconsider the vote, and to lay the motion to reconsider on the table.

Mr. DARLING, with a view to prevent the vote being made final, moved an adjournment.

The House refused to adjourn, yeas 52, nays 69.

Mr. LYNCH called for the yeas and nays, and there were some indications of a purpose on the part of the friends of the bill to fillibuster.

The yeas and nays were taken, and the House again refused to adjourn.

The motion to reconsider was then laid on the table, without a division.

On motion of Mr. STEVENS, it was ordered that the session to-morrow be confined to debate on the President's Annual Message.

THE WEST INDIA TELEGRAPH.

On motion of Mr. ELIOT a Committee of Conference was ordered on the West India Telegraph Bill.

PETITION.

Mr. KETCHAM presented a petition of citizens of Red Hook, Dutchess County, N. Y., asking for increased protection for American wool. It was referred to the Committee of Way and Means.

THE ADMISSION OF TENNESSEE.

Mr. ROSS asked leave to call up the motion to reconsider the vote recommitting the question of the admission of Tennessee to the Committee on Reconstruction, which he designated as a putrid, corrupt carcass, a stench in the nostrils of the people, which should be abated, now that the cholera was approaching.

The Speaker ruled that the motion to reconsider could not be called up at this time.

The House then, at 5 o'clock, adjourned.

Note from Gen. Swayne.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

OFFICE ASSISTANT COMMISSIONER, STATE OF ALABAMA, BUREAU OF REFUGEES, FREEDMEN AND ABANDONED LANDS,
MONTGOMERY, Ala., April 21, 1866.

In your daily of —, in giving a synopsis of evidence before the Committee on Reconstruction, you quote me as testifying to "a gradual cessation of disorder, a progress in legislation toward equal rights for all men, and a marked increase of political animosity," in this State.

The last clause, as you give it, must read to any one who knows this country as a palpable misstatement. The same is correctly printed in the Chronicle of the same date as "a marked increase of political amnesty." A distinction with a difference.

You can readily perceive that a people may for their own sake repress disorder, and conform their laws to imperative requirements, while at the same time the expression of disloyal sentiment among them becomes more prevalent and uncompromising as they are relieved from personal apprehensions incident to the late surrender. Your obedient servant,

WAGER SWAYNE.

[We print the above according to "copy." Gen. SWAYNE has probably made a mistake in quoting from our previous report—as otherwise he has nothing to correct.—ED. TIMES.]

POLITICAL.

A Candid Survey of the Political Future—Troubles Ahead.

From the Auburn (N. Y.) Advertiser & Union, April 25.

We had occasion to state in our issue of yesterday, that any further indemnity for the expenses of the war than we have already received, is out of the question. Security for the future is the subject now uppermost before Congress and the country.

In respect to this the first question which arises is, whether Congress possesses any power whatever to exact from the late rebels any security for their future behavior. To consider this aright, we must first settle in our minds the precise status of the rebels as members of their respective States, and whether there exists any way of obtaining security from them as individuals. So far as the paroled soldiers are concerned, it seems to be admitted that there is not. All other rebels might be arrested and put under recognizance to keep the peace if it were not for the Amnesty Proclamation, which extends a pardon to some of them. A few of their leaders are now under arrest for suspected complicity in the assassination of President LINCOLN, and for treason, and may yet be tried with the view to punishment. But in looking over the whole subject, neither the President nor Congress have found any feasible constitutional way to exact any security from them that they will not rebel again when opportunity offers. So we dismiss that idea from consideration as being of no practical account. No security will be, because it cannot be, exacted of them as individuals.

The next question which arises is whether any security can be obtained from them in their collective capacity as members of their respective States. And here we must consider that these States are acknowledged and proclaimed to be inside the Union under the Constitution, although some of their functions are suspended by the peculiarity of their situation. They are within the Union yet in certain respects, although out of their proper practical relations to the Government. This being their condition, is there any way in which the Federal Government can exact any formal guaranty from these States that their inhabitants will never again rebel? We suppose not, except through an amendment to the Constitution, and no such amendment would be likely to be ratified by three-fourths of the States. We dismiss that idea also as one of no practical account.

This brings us to the consideration of the question whether any security can be exacted by indirection as a logical result of any practical line of policy toward them. It has been suggested that since there appears to be no way to exact security for future behavior by direct means they shall be denied representation in Congress and in National Conventions until they so amend their State Conventions as to declare the Union of States to be perpetual. This idea seems to obtain favor with those who are without faith in those who have been rebels.

Those, who like Judge SHELLABARGER, of Ohio, continue to believe that the rebels have lost all right to participate in the Government, and that "no good thing can come out of Nazareth," maintain another position, namely:

1. That the people of the Southern States shall be excluded from representation in Congress and participation in political councils until after the next Presidential election.
2. To exclude the entire Southern vote for President and Vice-President, upon the precedent established by Congress in the last election.
3. If the Southern and Northern Democratic vote together should elect a President, to be prepared to resist that election.

Upon this the Democratic Party of the country have already taken issue with the apparent hope of making it successful.

The point we are discussing is indirect security for the good behavior of the rebels in the future. The question is whether this line of policy, if it shall be followed, will be likely, in view of the issue already made upon it, to secure it. We have seen no reason for believing that it will. The key note to the probable solution may be discovered in the testimony of ALEXANDER H. STEPHENS, of Georgia. He said distinctly that the Southern people had complied with all the terms originally offered them, and all which Congress had the right to impose—that they would not accept others as conditions precedent to admission into Congress. It is reasonably certain that they consider themselves within the Union, and in practical relations to the Government which entitle them to representation in Congress and in political conventions.

It is reasonably certain that they will send delegates to the next national nominating conventions, and that the Democratic nominating convention will admit them. It is reasonably certain, moreover, that they will choose Electors of President and Vice-President, and ask to have them canvassed, and that if the electoral votes of Southern and Northern Democrats together are enough to elect a President and Vice-President, and they are not allowed, there will be a political trouble of a very formidable character. With JOHNSON for President at that time in command of the military forces, it cannot be reasonably expected that the candidates elected will or can be kept out of office.

We are free to say that we cannot contemplate such a contingency without the deepest concern. When we apply to this subject the logic of our own observation and experience of political campaigns in by-gone years, we are obliged to conclude that such an experiment will result in trouble, without any corresponding benefits to the party and country. We fervently hope that such a contingency may be avoided.

The Reconstruction Committee—A Report Called for.

From the Albany Evening Journal.

The Reconstruction Committee met yesterday, for the purpose, as was supposed, of concluding a report to be made to Congress to-day. But the interview revealed the fact that marked differences existed between two branches upon one of the most important subjects presented for consideration.

We do not care to notice the various rumors that are prevalent as to the character of these disagreements. Most of them are mere creations of fancy, and are quite as likely to be false as true. The main issue is undoubtedly negro suffrage. STEVENS, with others of his class, contends for unrestricted franchise; but he is not thus far able to bring a majority to his views.

One fact is patent: The important legislation of the country should no longer be retarded by leaving it in the hands of this Committee. Heretofore, all questions relating to reconstruction have been referred to it. One report was made by it under pressure, but it has succeeded in preventing action even upon that, thus far. Meanwhile the nation awaits, with eager expectancy, the promulgation of some definite line of policy, upon which sentiment and action can be concentrated. It ought not to be asked to wait longer.

The President has given his views, clearly and unequivocally. Upon some points they disagree with those entertained by a majority of Congress. But precisely where the line of divergence begins, or what is essential to produce harmony between the two branches of the Administration, which should be laboring for a common object, nobody knows. THAD. STEVENS' Committee has been the hitherto impenetrable barrier to all action in this direction.

Congress should, in justice to itself and to its constituents, either demand a speedy and formal report from its Committee; or, if that cannot be attained, it should take the various subjects referred out of its hands, and begin their settlement in open House. At all events, give us a policy, and perplex us no longer with vague controversies or indeterminate generalities. The question of admitting the Tennessee delegation affords an opportunity to initiate some practical measures.

Discussion and Probable Action of the Reconstruction Committee.

From the Chicago Tribune.

The meeting of the Reconstruction Committee to be held to-morrow morning is looked forward to with much interest, there being a general popular expectation that it will accomplish some important result, and possibly agree to its final report. It may be said, however, in advance, that this expectation is not by any means sure of realization. The Committee at their two recent meetings discussed the general principles on which the late rebel States should be restored to the privileges of Congressional representation, and there is warrant for remarking that the doctrine of the Boutwell-Washburne minority report, in the Tennessee case, has much more strength now than it had when the question with respect to that State was submitted to the House. It will be recollected that the distinguishing feature of that report was that it required Tennessee to grant negro suffrage as one of the conditions precedent, and while it is not probable that a majority of the full Committee can be brought to an agreement on a scheme requiring immediate and unconditional negro suffrage, it may be looked upon as almost certain that they will unite on a proposition demanding a guarantee from the rebel States of immediate equality in civil rights, without regard to race or color, and like equality in political rights at the expiration of a brief term of years. The several votes taken in the committee, not on any contemplated scheme or plan, but on minor propositions or parts of a general plan, though taken when two or three members were absent, seem to leave no doubt that the universal suffrage, universal amnesty scheme will be defeated when a vote is taken in full committee. Many leading members of the Senate and House, off as well as on the committee, are irreconcilably opposed to universal amnesty, and there is little probability at the present feeling, if either branch of Congress would agree to it even to secure universal suffrage. The Dale Owen proposition, viz., that representation during the ten years next ensuing shall be based on legal voters, and after that on population, and that after 1876 there shall be equality in political rights without respect to race or color, finds much favor; but some members of the Committee are unwilling to postpone the suffrage grant for so long a period as ten years. There is further some disposition to couple any plan involving negro suffrage, with a ten years' extension of the time for the payment of direct taxes now due from the rebel States, though the action of this proviso is not at all certain. There has been much quiet canvassing during the last three or four days among individual members and State delegations of Union sympathies, with a view to learning how far the House will sustain the Committee in the direction of negro suffrage. The general report, whenever made, is likely to depend considerably upon this earnest comparison of views.

FRIDAY, April 27—P. M.

The foreign advices at hand last evening strengthened the Gold-Room to-day to 129@129½ ⅌ cent., but without advancing Bills on London above 108½ ⅌ cent. on actual sales, as quoted last night. By reason of the Cotton panic in Liverpool, our leading Bankers drawing on London have the market for exchange more in control than before this news, and a wider discrimination is made between Southern-drawn bills than these standard signatures. But the trade demand for the steamers of Saturday was not perceptibly improved, and the quotation left off no higher than on Thursday afternoon. The price of Gold, however, was well supported, and the advance of yesterday and this morning seem to be regarded as likely to continue, because of the scarcity of Gold for cash delivery until after the First of May disbursements of Gold Interest on the Public Debt. These disbursements will let loose next week from eight to ten millions of dollars.

The market for Money is wholly unaffected by the foreign news. There is not the slightest distrust growing out of the probable losses on Cotton at Liverpool, so far as this side is concerned, and there is the promptest readiness to repurchase and hold all the United States 5-20s of 1862 likely to be returned from England or the Continent on the alarm of War or the temptation of a better price in New-York than in Frankfort or London. Thus far the actual return of these Bonds has not amounted to a single week's demand from domestic buyers for investment, while at the same time very heavy sales have been indulged in on speculation of Bonds "to arrive," or more properly speaking, of Bonds expected to be bought back here, if not brought back from abroad at lower figures.

We believe it is pretty well authenticated that the Treasury will refuse to receive new deposits on interest absolutely after the middle of May, and that on the first of the month new deposits will be refused at a higher rate than 4 ⅌ cent. per annum, and all previous deposits reduced after 10 or 15 days' notice to 4 ⅌ cent. The present condition of the deposits of Currency in the Treasury of the United States, all of which are to be brought down to 4 ⅌ cent. in May, we reckon about as follows:

Bank Clearing-house demand 5 ⅌ cents..	$40,000,000
Ten-day notice deposits at 6 ⅌ cent.......	75,000,000
Ten-day notice deposits at 5 ⅌ cent.......	15,000,000
Total currency and deposits........	$130,000,000

The first item has already been reduced to 4 ⅌ cent. from the 1st of May. The second has not been increased since 1st of February. The last will reach its maximum on Monday next, April 30.

The Government Stocks advanced on the foreign news this morning. The buyers of 5-20s of 1862 were ready to pay 106¼@106⅜ ⅌ cent., while the sellers "to arrive" were not disposed to press their contracts at yesterday's rates of 105⅞@⅞ ⅌ cent. The other 5-20s were firm; the 10-40s not so firm as a day or two ago; and the 7.30s 101⅝@101¾ ⅌ cent., in good request, but relatively not in so much favor as the Gold-bearing Bonds, owing to the stiffness in the rate for Gold.

The railway speculation was generally higher than on the foreign news last night, and the demand was good throughout the day for most of the New-York and Western lines. Among the latter there was a sudden rise from yesterday forenoon from 119 to 122½ last night, and 123½@122½ to-day. Among the miscellaneous shares, the movement was upward on Quicksilver and Mariposa Preferred, firm on Canton and steady on most other descriptions. The fluctuations in Erie shares through the day were from 72⅞@74¼ ⅌ cent., the stock showing much sensitiveness to any large orders either way. At 5:30 P. M. the following quotations were made on the general market as compared with Thursday night:

The Excise Tax on Cotton.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

I am sorry to see the tinkering bill which has been introduced into Congress for amending the Internal Revenue Act.

I object to the reduction of the income tax, though, personally, I may be pleased at the prospect of paying 5 instead of 10 ⅌ cent. on the greater part of my own income. The expense of collecting 10 is no greater than that of the proposed 5 ⅌ cent.; there are many persons who can only be properly reached by such a tax, such as a host of aliens who prey upon the resources of the country.

I will not criticise the whole bill, however, but allude specially to cotton, upon which a duty of five cents, instead of the present two cents, is proposed to be collected on and after 1st of July, when no duty has been previously paid on it. This ought to be on all cotton in the United States on 1st July, less the duty already paid, and in like manner upon all cotton then in the mills, less the quantity required for one month's consumption of each, at the rate of so much per spindle; and the duty ought to be payable only at the mill for consumption, and upon shipment for exportation abroad; a course which would greatly reduce the numbers of Government employes, and prevent frauds and annoyances.

I trust there will be no drawback allowed on the exportation of cotton goods, or we shall have a new host of employes quartered upon the country, and a new set of frauds and annoyances. A duty of 3 cents ⅌ lb. would be high enough, but 2 cents still better, as we wish to promote cotton cultivation.

The following table will show the absurdity of proposing 5 cents the pound:

	Per cent.	Probable price.	Possible price.
Cost of production....	30 cents. 12 cents.	25 cents. 12 cents.	20 cents. 12 cents.
Gross avails....	18 cents.	13 cents.	8 cents.
Tax at 5 cents....	5 cents.	5 cents.	5 cents.
Would leave....	13 cents.	8 cents.	3 cents.
Tax at 3 cents....	15 cents.	10 cents.	5 cents.
Percentage of tax at 5 cents.	27¾ ⅌ c.	38½ ⅌ c.	62½ ⅌ c.
Percentage of tax at 3 cents.	16⅔ ⅌ c.	23 ⅌ c.	37½ ⅌ c.
Percentage at present tax, 2c.	11 ⅌ c.	15⅜ ⅌ c.	25 ⅌ c.

Now the cost of production, &c., may be greater than my estimate. Myriads of cotton gins have been shipping to all parts of the world for years past, and are still shipping, for, to this day, they form an important part of the freight of the new steamers to Brazil. If our prices fall to only 20 cents in the next 12 months, the tax will be intolerable at 5 cents; but if to 12 cents, which is by no means impossible, it will be total ruin to planters, and total suspension of the cultivation.

Let Congress leave the taxes untouched, except repealing such as do not pay the expense of collection—simplify the process of collecting—reduce the number of employees by such plans as I have suggested for the cotton tax, and by all others possible. Try the working of the old tax law until the next session, by which time they must approach the question with more knowledge than they have exhibited thus far.

As it is, the tax officers have been engaged three years in hunting up the dodges by which taxation has been escaped. They have yet many to hunt up, and it is neither wise nor expedient to set them upon a fresh hunt for new dodges under a new law.

INVESTIGATOR.

The Missouri Bonds.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

It gives me great pleasure to inform those in interest that the little discussion on this subject has brought to light a more favorable prospect for the bondholders. There is in this City at present a prominent member of the Missouri Legislature, and he has given the pleasant assurance that the law of the last Legislature was passed while there was a doubt of the State getting her claim allowed by the General Government, and while the people of Missouri thought that it was the best they could do. Now, however, they feel differently, and this gentleman says that any reasonable expectations of the New-York Committee (for a meeting is to be held and a Committee, doubtless, will be appointed,) will be met. This gentleman offers to appear at the meeting; having the good name of his State at heart, he is most anxious to keep her record clean. He states that no action was taken by the Governor under the obnoxious law—no new bonds ordered, or any thing of that kind. I was not then mistaken in my estimate of Gov. FLETCHER's honesty, and Missouri is not in the hands of the "Pikes."

ALPHA.

GENERAL MARKETS.

NEW-YORK, Friday, April 27, 1866.

The receipts of the principal kinds of Produce since our last have been 10 bbls. Ashes, 3,704 bbls. Flour, 197 bags Corn Meal, 250 bushels Corn, 460 bushels Malt, 25 bbls. Pork, 394 pkgs. Cut Meats, 267 pkgs. Lard, 15 pkgs. Beef, and 326 bbls. Whisky.

ASHES—Have been inactive and depressed at $6 62½@$6 87½ for Pots, and (nominally) $12 25@ $12 50 for Pearls, ⅌ 100 lbs.

BEESWAX—Has been scarce and quiet as previously quoted.

CANDLES—Are dull at old rates.

COFFEE—Is in limited demand and quoted rather heavy. Java at 26c.@27c., Native Ceylon at 21c.@ 23½c., Maracaibo at 19½c.@22½c., Laguayra at 18½c. @21c., Rio at 16c.@20½c., and St. Domingo at 17½c. @17½c., cash, in gold, ⅌ lb.

COTTON—Has been in very slack request at decidedly lower and irregular prices, which the principal holders are not disposed to accept; hence, the current movements are on a very restricted scale. Middlings are quoted all the way from 28c.@31c. ⅌ lb. Sales since our last 1,200 bales, against receipts of 749 bales. The fall in prices in this market, within the past three days, has been about 7c. a pound, or equal to a loss of about $28 a bale, which, on a stock of 180,000 bales, would make the aggregate depreciation something over five million dollars.

FOREIGN LIQUORS—Have been quiet and depressed in price.

GRAIN—Wheat opened pretty briskly at a further partial advance of 2c.@3c. ⅌ bushel, but closed tamely and less buoyantly. Sales, since our last, 34,000 bushels, including old red Western (Winter) at $2 50; new No. 1 Milwaukee Club at $1 97@$2, the latter an extreme rate for a lot of very choice, delivered; old No. 1 do., at $1 90; and prime No. 1 Chicago Spring at $1 92 ⅌ bushel. Corn has been quiet and heavy, closing in favor of buyers. Sales, 27,000 bushels, at 82c.@85c. for unsound, and 84c.@87½c., in store and delivered for poor to choice sound mixed Western, ⅌ bushel. Oats are in limited demand yet steady, including State, at 62c.@63c., Jersey and Pennsylvania at 55c.@57c., old Western at 57c.@60c., new Western at 43c.@50c., Canada at 58c.@60c. ⅌ bushel. Rye has been dull and nominal. Barley has been in limited request; sales 5,000 bushels Canada West at $1 20 ⅌ bushel. Barley Malt has been neglected. The business in Breadstuffs in Milwaukee, week ending with April 24, Messrs. GEO. I. JONES & Co. notice thus: "The Flour market during the past week has been active, and has advanced 50c.@75c. ⅌ barrel. Freight to New-York by all rail, $1 10 ⅌ barrel; to Boston and Portland, $1 25; to Baltimore and Philadelphia, $1. Receipts for week, 6,545 barrels. Shipments for week, 9,502 barrels. The Wheat market during the past week has been greatly excited, and under the influence of an active speculative, consumptive and shipping demand, prices have again advanced, and close fully 9c. ⅌ bushel higher. The business has been chiefly on Ohio, Indiana and Illinois account, and parties from these States have operated with great confidence in a still further improvement under the belief that the supply of sound Wheat has been nearly exhausted in pretty much all sections of the country, with the exception of that tributary to this port. The receipts have increased, but have not been as heavy as was generally anticipated. Much larger arrivals are expected during the coming fortnight, but it is thought that they will not have much effect on the market, owing to the fact that a great deal of the Wheat now on the Mississippi and tributary streams has been sold to arrive, and as an increased activity in the demand for shipment is looked for on the reopening of Lake navigation. Prices for forward delivery have, however, ruled rather lower during the past few days than for lots on the spot. The quantity of Wheat expected to arrive here between this date and next harvest is variously estimated at from 4,000,000 to 6,000,000 bushels. The stock in store here has been very materially reduced, the shipments by rail having continued steady, and a large number of vessels having been loaded in readiness to sail for the lower lake ports as soon as the Straits of Mackinaw are reported to be open. As yet only a few propellers and sail vessels have left for below but the remainder of the fleet now loaded will probably follow in the course of a few days. Freights have ruled steady at 9½c. on wheat to Buffalo, and 14½c. to Oswego, though at the close the tendency seems to be toward rather lower rates. The weather during the week has been very favorable for farming operations, and seeding in this State has progressed rapidly. The stock of wheat in store is estimated at 750,000 bushels, against 500,000 bushels at corresponding date last year. The receipts of wheat for past week sum up 132,667 bushels, against 52,291 bushels for the same time last year. Shipments for week, 49,180 bushels by rail, and 189,078 bushels by lake. We quote No. 1 Spring Wheat in store, subject to 2c. ⅌ bushel storage, at $1 53½. No. 2 at $1 40. Winter Wheat ranges from $1 60 to $2 20. Oats have been in active demand and close 1c. higher, with buyers at 34c. for No. 1 in store, subject to 2c. storage. No. 2 sell at 28c. 32,000 bushels No. 1 have been loaded at 6c. freight to Buffalo."

HAY.—North River bale is in good demand and steady at 60c.@85c. for poor to choice, ⅌ 100 lbs.

HOPS—Have been in request, including last year's crop, at 20c.@65c., and two years old at 8c.@35c. ⅌ lb. We are indebted to Mr. EMMET WELLS for the following notice of the week's business in this market: "The 'better feeling' noticed in our report of last week still rules an improving market, stimulated as it has been by extreme light receipts and a steady consumptive demand, which has reduced the stock to a point below that of any preceding year within the memory of the trade. There is a little better demand for the lower grades, but the transactions have been too small to change our quotations, or to incite a speculative movement, which, however, cannot be far off with a continuance of the present active business. From advices just received from London of date April 7, we copy: 'Business of late has been quiet, but is now revived by the arrival of the American mail, reporting sales of the late consignments of Belgian and Bavarian Hops at remunerative prices, and bringing fresh orders. Belgian Hops are greatly inquired for, but on account of the diminished stock doubts are entertained of our ability to execute further orders; the stock of Bavarians, however, being still quite considerable, brewers will have to look to them for their supply.' Imports into New York this week 17 bales Bavarian. The closing quotations are as follows: 1864's, inferior American, 8c.@15c.; 1864's, prime American, 20c.@30c.; 1865's, inferior American, 15c.@ 45c.; 1865's, prime American, 55c.@65c.; English, 50c.@55c.; Belgian, 60c.@65c.; Bavarian, 70c.@75c. ⅌ lb."

FAMILY MARKET PRICE CURRENT.

WASHINGTON MARKET, Friday, April 27, 1866.

MEATS.

Supplies of meats are quite liberal this week, especially in view of the very moderate wants of buyers, who have not been as numerous in market to-day as usual on Friday, though the weather has been propitious and the market in extraordinarily cleanly condition, more particularly the West-street sidewalk stalls, where the butchers have made extensive alterations, and indulged in paint and whitewash until they have really made up a very decent show. Much of this sorely needed work of renovation has resulted from the vigilance and urgency of the Sanitary Inspectors, though the leading dealers manifested commendable promptness in acting on the official suggestions. We have not seen the market as pure, and bright, and free from offensive sights and smells, in many a year as we have found it to-day. Business was slow, however, and the turn of prices in favor of purchasers.

POULTRY AND GAME.

Poultry is in moderate supply and demand, at, in a few instances, lower prices. Game is less plenty and held with more firmness, being in fair request. Canvas-back and red-head Ducks and Robins have been out of market. Wild Pigeons have been in much better assortment and in finer condition, commanding better prices, on a pretty brisk trade. At a leading stall to-day there were some splendid lots on sale, as fat and fresh as any ever before exhibited in the market. They were in quick request at our extreme price of $3 ⅌ dozen.

FISH.

Recent high winds have prevented the receipt of the usual full supplies of Fish, and prices have consequently stiffened a little under a fair demand for the principal varieties. Fresh Salmon are now arriving from St. Johns and the Kennebec, the first lot from the latter having come to hand this week. The Kennebec Salmon, which we noticed in market to-day, were fine indeed, and were meeting a free sale at $1 25 a pound for the whole fish, or $1 50 a pound in cuts. The St. Johns Salmon were of a less desirable quality, and quoted at 87½c.@$1 25 ⅌ lb. Carps, Crabs and Smelts are out of market; we accordingly drop them from our list.

VEGETABLES.

Under the pressure of increasing receipts of new vegetables the market is yielding gradually, yet trade is dull and the dealers are rather low-spirited. New Onions, (from Bermuda,) Green Peas, Rhubarb, Shallots and Sprouts have been offering more freely this week, at easier prices.

FRUITS AND FLOWERS.

High prices and light supplies continue to check business in all kinds of domestic fruit. Indeed, the fruit trade is generally very dull. POLICE COURTS.

Jefferson Market—Before Justice Ledwith.

EFFECTS OF A SPREE.

THOMAS MCKEE, residing at No. 418 West Sixteenth-street, appeared before the Court and made a charge against THOMAS CORBETT and DANIEL MCCORMICK, for robbing him of a silver watch and chain valued at $20, on Thursday night. ANDREW ANDERSON, who resides in the same house as the complainant, stated that he was assisting MCKEE, who was intoxicated, through Tenth-avenue, on his way home. On reaching Twenty-sixth-street they were joined by the accused, when MCCORMICK fumbled about MCKEE's person and CORBETT took from his vest-pocket the watch, when both the accused ran off. CORBETT was arrested by Officer FOLEY, of the Sixteenth Precinct, when he said that MCCORMICK had retained possession of the watch. The prisoner was committed for trial without bail. He is 19 years of age and a native of Ireland.

GRAND LARCENY.

JOHN C. MURRAY, of No. 24 Carmine-street, caused the arrest of NETTIE CARR, by Officer JACKSON, of the Eighth Precinct, on a charge of having stolen from him four $20 bills in United States currency. The complainant met the accused in the street and accompanied her home, where the larceny was committed. When charged with the theft, NETTIE handed back MURRAY $60, saying that was all she had. When arraigned before the Court, the prisoner confessed having taken the money, but stated that she had given it all back again. Committed to answer in default of $1,000 bail. NETTIE is 19 years of age, and a native of England.

STABBED WITH A CHISEL.

About 1 o'clock yesterday morning, RUDOLPH SCHRIEVER quarreled with HEMAN DEUTCH, residing at No. 112 West Twenty-eighth-street. During the dispute, SCHRIEVER, who was partially intoxicated, stabbed his opponent in the left side with a carpenter's chisel, inflicting a serious wound. He also stabbed DEUTCH in the arm and body. Officer MILCAHY, of the Twentieth Precinct, arrested the assailant, and DEUTCH was removed to the Jews' Hospital for treatment. The prisoner was yesterday committed for examination.

The Tombs—Before Justice Dowling.

BROKE OPEN A TRUNK.

CHARLES BRANDEIS, of No. 7 Stanton-street, caused the arrest of ELIAS STEIN by Officer SULLIVAN, of the Fourteenth Precinct, on a charge of having stolen $95. When arrested, the accused confessed taking a portion of the money, having broken open a trunk to obtain it. The prisoner was committed for trial in default of bail.

SHOPLIFTER.

LEVI MORRIS went into the store of DAVID VALENTINE & Co., No. 356 Broadway, yesterday afternoon, under pretence of making purchases. He was shown some silk goods, but left soon after, without purchasing any. As he went out of the store, EZEKIEL MILLER, one of the clerks, noticed that MORRIS dropped a piece of silk, when he was detained and handed over to the custody of Officer WOOLDRIDGE, of the Sixth Precinct. On being searched, two more pieces of silk, valued at $60, were found in his pantaloons. Committed for examination.

SPIRITED SKIRMISH IN PECK-SLIP.—Yesterday morning, on the arrival of the Harlem steamer Sylvan Stream, at 9 A. M., the usual rencontre took place which has latterly distinguished the lower portion of our City. As soon as the above-mentioned steamer touched the dock, and a landing was effected, a column of infantry three or four hundred strong was immediately formed for the purpose of forcing an entrance into the City. By a sudden charge the head of the column succeeded in establishing itself on the foul pavement in South-street, and for a time held in check one line of charioteers which endeavored to penetrate and break it. Unfortunately, however, while this was passing, the rearward portion of the column, the end near the river, was successfully attacked by a dirt cart, under a perfect Ajax Telamon of a driver, and the new-fashioned cavalry pouring in on both flanks remained masters of the field. As a necessary consequence, for a considerable time the débris of the infantry was confined in the cul-de-sac of the entrance to the dock, and might be said in strict military parlance, to be imprisoned in a bottle tightly corked. By permission of the victorious equestrians the rest of the column was, after a proper time, permitted to enter the City.

LAW REPORTS.

Passing Counterfeit Money.

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT—SOUTHERN DISTRICT.

Before Judge Shipman.

Richard Muhlstadt, alias John Muller, was put on trial charged with attempting to pass a counterfeit fifty-cent stamp. The evidence showed that he stopped at an orange stand and offered the stamp in payment for two oranges. He was told it was bad, whereupon he took it and walked off without a word. A policeman coming along was told of the occurrence, and followed the accused, who, when he found the policeman near him, ran down a by-street as hard as he could, with the policeman after him. The latter saw him take something from his pocket and cram it into his mouth, but was unable to prevent him from swallowing it. On being taken to the station-house he gave a false name, and on being searched he was found to have the bad stamp which he had tried to pass, and a quantity of good money in small stamps and in bills.

The Jury were not able to agree and were discharged. The Judge ordered the accused to be discharged on giving $400 bail.

Pleading in Collision Cases.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT—SOUTHERN DISTRICT.

Before Judge Benedict.

The Atlantic Mail Steamship Company vs. The Schooner Mary Ella.—This case came up on exceptions to the libel. The action was brought by the owners of the steamer Equator to recover the damages occasioned to her by a collision with the schooner.

The claimants excepted to the libel on the ground that it did not state what light the steamer displayed nor what course the pilot steered, nor what light was seen on the approaching vessel, nor what parts of the two vessels came together.

Held by the Court—That the averment that the steamer "had the usual and proper lights displayed and burning brightly" must be deemed to be an averment that the steamer displayed the lights which the statute requires, and to fully describe them.

That the fact as to what light was seen is one always within the knowledge of the libelant, and should be stated; and the exception on that ground is well taken.

That the averment "that upon seeing the light the pilot steered his course so as to keep out of the way of the Mary Ella" is not a sufficient statement of the steamer's course. As the libel is drawn, it is impossible to tell whether any change was made in the steamer's course or not; and that this exception is therefore valid.

That it is plain on the whole libel that the port bow of the steamer was struck by the bow of the schooner; and if the information is fairly conveyed by the libel, it will be deemed sufficient, although the method of the blow and the parts of the vessels are not mentioned by name; and this exception must be disallowed. Decree accordingly.

For libelant, Messrs. Allen and Foley; for claimant, Messrs. Beebe, Dean and Donohue.

United States Commissioners' Office.

Before Commissioner Betts.

John Piggott was arrested, and taken before Commissioner BETTS, yesterday, charged with having passed counterfeit United States currency on one of the Third-avenue cars, on Tuesday night. It appeared from the evidence that the accused had already served a year in prison on a similar charge, and expected from three to five years for the present offence.

The examination was adjourned till Monday at 12 o'clock.

Before Commissioner Newton.

In the case of the United States vs. Carl Noelte, which has been so long pending, owing to the dispute between the State and United States authorities relative to the custody of the prisoner, the Marshal to-day made no return, the Sheriff still refusing to surrender him. The Commissioner thereupon adjourned the case for another week, directing the Marshal to execute the warrant in the meantime.

The Litigation in the Matter of the Receivership of the Morris Fire and Inland Insurance Company—Deputy Attorney-General Hammond Exculpated, and the Motion for an Attachment against Him Denied.

SUPREME COURT—SPECIAL TERM.

In the Matter of the Morris Fire and Inland Insurance Company.—GEORGE G. BARNARD, J.—The controversy in regard to the receivership in this matter having been settled, it would perhaps be unnecessary to decide the motion for an attachment against Mr. Hammond, the Deputy Attorney-General, for not filing the papers used on the application for the appointment of a receiver on the 27th of February last, were it not that it affords an opportunity for the full exculpation of the Deputy Attorney-General from all disrespect to the Court in the premises.

The following notes of Messrs. Beamish & Skidmore agreeing essentially with Mr. Hammond's affidavit, disposes of any question of fact there may have been in the case:

NEW-YORK, March 10, 1866.

Hon. Geo. G. Barnard:

DEAR SIR: Since the argument in the Morris Fire Insurance case, I have become convinced that I was in error in regard to the delivery to Mr. Hammond of the papers in the case after their examination by yourself, on the 27th of February. I am now confirmed in this from the recollection of the circumstances detailed to me by Mr. Skidmore, who has called my attention to the fact that I delivered the papers to him, and that he handed them to Mr. Hammond, the Deputy Attorney-General, with the usual request to "enter" them. I think I must have had another set of papers in my mind at the time of making the hurried affidavit used in the case.

I feel constrained to inform you of these facts, lest the statement previously made by myself may have led to unjust reflections upon the course pursued by Mr. Hammond in this regard.

I make this statement the more cheerfully, knowing as I do that no one could desire more than yourself that this matter should be promptly corrected.

I remain, dear Sir, your very obedient servant,

R. C. BEAMISH.

In regard to the matter referred to in the foregoing letter of Mr. Beamish, permit me to say that, having Mr. Hammond's express desire to return to Albany in the afternoon train, I motioned to him on his return to Court, indicating that the papers had been examined by Judge Barnard.

Mr. Hammond came forward, and I handed the papers to him received by me from Mr. Beamish. Mr. Hammond did not ask for the papers; I handed them to him in the usual course, supposing that he desired to enter them as soon as possible.

I am, very respectfully,

JOHN F. SKIDMORE.

More particular reference to the personal imputations upon the course pursued by Mr. Hammond is unnecessary in expressing a regret at their occurrence.

It is proper to add that the views of the Attorney-General and his deputy in regard to the practice were doubtless sincerely entertained, and the Court takes pleasure in according the utmost good faith to the officers of the State in their action in the premises. Let an order be entered denying the motion.

The Oil Coal Mines in West Virginia—Motion to Dissolve an Injunction.

SUPREME COURT—CHAMBERS—APRIL 27.

Before Justice Clerke.

Wm. W. Averill vs. Elisha Riggs, Wm. Whitewright, Jr., and others.—This action was brought by the plaintiff, Gen. Averill, mainly for the purpose of restraining the defendants from doing certain acts. The complaint, upon which the temporary injunction order was granted, alleges that in the Autumn of 1864, one H. F. Averill procured from various parties, contracts for the purchase of about three thousand five hundred acres of land, lying in the County of Putnam, West Virginia; that these contracts, made by Averill as agent for the parties purchasing the lands, were made for the use and benefit of the said agent and one Oscar J. Averill; that on the 14th of February, 1865, the right, title and interest to these lands became vested in Messrs. Jerome, Riggs, Raymond, Whitewright, Forbes, Hutton, O. J. and H. F. Averill, and the plaintiff, W. W. Averill; that on the last-mentioned day they organized a joint stock company under the name of "The Averill Coal and Oil Company;" that the plaintiff was elected President of said Company, and H. F. Averill Superintendent—the President to have a salary of $5,000 per annum, and the Superintendent $4,000; that the latter was, by resolution, directed to go immediately to West Virginia, and take steps to improve the tract of land in question, and develop the wealth supposed to be contained therein, in the shape of oil and coal. The complaint then goes on to say that the President and Superintendent went there and commenced to improve the property and develop the mines, &c.; that bridges were built, a saw-mill erected; also a large number of dwelling-houses for the use of the mechanics and employes of the Company; that a new village was laid out and named "Raymond City," which city covers one hundred and twenty-five acres; that several coal mines were opened, and brick kilns started wherein a large quantity of bricks were manufactured. The complaint sums up the matter by saying that over $100,000 have been expended in improvements of various kinds, and that that amount has been paid by the Treasurer of the Company, Mr. Elisha Riggs. The plaintiff further avers that he has not been paid his salary, which it was agreed should be at the rate of $5,000 per annum, a large portion of which is now due.

The complaint then alleges that at the time of the organization of the Company, it was understood that the lands, &c., conveyed to some of the defendants were to be transferred to the Company, they to receive $20,000 in shares of the stock in payment; that from the whole number of shares, (20,000,) 6,000 were to be set apart for the Company's use and benefit, and this was to be considered its working capital; that the 14,000 shares remaining were to be distributed among the stockholders in proportion to their respective interests; that the share of the plaintiff, under this arrangement, would have been 1,680 shares; that two or three of the defendants have acted in violation of this arrangement; that in May last the trustees of the Company authorized its Treasurer to sell the above-mentioned 6,000 shares of working capital stock at $20 a share, and it was agreed that it should be purchased by defendants, Riggs, Jerome & Co.; and that they paid therefor $112,000, but refused to pay any more; that the plaintiff sold 375 shares of the 6,000 shares named for $40 per share, one-half of which was paid over to the defendants; that on the 8th of March last the trustees of the Company had a meeting, at which a new organization was proposed in the place of "The Averill Coal and Oil Company," and subsequently another meeting was held to devise means to transfer the Company's property to a new company, to be called "The Averill Coal Company."

The complaint asks therefore that the defendants be enjoined from conveying the property mentioned to another company, and from doing any act tending to the dissolution of "The Averill Coal and Oil Company;" also that defendants may be declared guilty of breaches of trust, and that all and each of them be removed from their respective trusts; that a receiver be appointed, and that the contract to purchase the 6,000 shares may be enforced by an order of the Court.

In opposition to the motion founded on the plaintiffs' complaint, Mr. Jas. W. Gerard, Jr., yesterday read a long affidavit made by Mr. E. Riggs, in which he alleges that he has advanced over $162,000 on account of the land and improvements thereon; that the plaintiff in the action is a man of no pecuniary means; that the Superintendent, H. F. Averill has received from him, as Secretary of the Company, over $9,000 for which he has not accounted. This statement in the affidavit is made by way of meeting the allegation that his salary has not been paid. The affidavit further shows that the Averills have never advanced any money on account of the land or the improvements made thereon; that it had been decided to reduce the capital stock, and also to change the name of the Company by leaving out the words "and oil," so that it would be "The Averill Coal Company;"

That all the officers and members of the Company were agreed upon this subject except the plaintiff and the Superintendent, A. F. Averill.

On the argument Mr. Buckley, for the defendants, contended that it was very injurious, if not ruinous, to have the injunction continued. Since the order was served the Company had been compelled to discharge at least a hundred workmen; everything there was at a stand-still, and the buildings and machinery would rapidly deteriorate in value if the work were not allowed to progress. At all events the paltry sum of $1,000 was no security—this was the sum required on the granting of the injunction. This sum was no proper guarantee of the defendants' rights. The defendants' loss was more than that every day the injunction was continued. Unless the Court would dissolve it, counsel said he must ask for an increase of the amount of security. After some further remarks by counsel upon either side the Court took the papers and reserved the decision.

For plaintiffs, David D. Field, Esq., and Messrs. G. R. & T. R. Pelton; for defendants, Messrs. Platt, Gerard and Buckley.

The May Term in the Criminal Courts—Alleged Murderers Awaiting Trial—A Condemned Murderer Dying of Consumption—Courts of Oyer and Terminer and General Sessions.

The May Term of the Courts of Oyer and Terminer and the General Sessions promises to be prolific of considerable interest. Murder in the first degree is well represented by prisoners awaiting trial, and there is an abundant supply of burglars and other criminals who, if justice shall have any say in their disposal, will find homes in the State Prison and the Penitentiary for periods of varied prolongation.

MURDER CASES.

Among the murder cases are the following: Dr. Henry Otto Clauss, charged with the murder of Charles Carson, an English ale-house keeper in Thirty-seventh-street. Murder in the first degree.

John Vernon and John Sherry, charged with killing William Piggott, a boy who interposed during a quarrel between the accused, to prevent them fighting. He was stabbed in several places, and subsequently died at the Hospital. Murder in the first degree.

John O'Brien, charged with killing his wife by shooting her with a pistol, in James-street. Murder in the first degree.

HUGH MCGINNIS, MICHAEL MCKENNA, WILLIAM COULTER and RICHARD GRIMSHAW, are charged with the murder of a private watchman at No. 424 West Thirty-fifth-street, on the 24th of February last. The deceased caught them in the act of committing burglary on the premises referred to, and they had previously been guilty of a burglary in Jane-street. Murder in the first degree.

PETER O'NEIL, charged with manslaughter, committed in the neighborhood having the euphonious title of Slaughter-house Point.

Edward Johnson, charged with the murder of Patrick Dunlop, in Washington-street. Murder in the first degree.

James Harrington, charged with shooting Henry Corwin, who is still in the hospital in a precarious condition.

Daniel and Miles O'Reilly, charged with the willful murder of Patrick Donnelly, in the tenement-house No. 254 East Fourteenth-street, on Sunday night last.

Caroline Schartz, charged with the murder of her three children. Murder in the first degree.

Patrick Dwyer, charged with killing Patrick McCowan, formerly an officer in the Court of General Sessions, during the election riots of December last. Murder in the first degree.

Roger Lamb, charged with killing his wife in February, 1865, and who was sentenced to be executed on the 5th of May of the same year, and whom the Court of Appeals has decided shall have a new trial, is a man between 60 and 70 years of age. He is bowed down with mental pain, and consumption has taken such a thorough hold on him that it is not expected he will ever be capable of being taken into court for trial.

In addition to Lamb, there are four persons now in the Tombs under sentence of death. They are:

Bernard Friery, found guilty of the murder of Harry Lazarus, and sentenced to be executed on the 31st of March, 1865, and whose case was carried to the Court of Appeals.

Frank Ferras, found guilty of murdering his wife, and sentenced to be executed on the 14th of April, 1865. Case now in Court of Appeals.

John Hackett, found guilty of murdering John Green, and sentenced to be executed on the 9th of February, 1866. Case awaiting decision of Court of Appeals.

Frederick Wagner, found guilty of murdering his wife. Sentenced to be executed 15th of December last. His case is awaiting the decision of the Court of Appeals. He is, apparently, insane.

The cases to be tried will be sufficiently numerous and important to employ the time and powers of District-Attorney Hall and his energetic and successful Assistant, Mr. Bedford. Judge Ingraham will probably preside in the Oyer and Terminer, and Judge Russel will occupy the bench in the General Sessions.

The Distillery Cases.

It will be remembered that Simon Donah, a distiller, was charged with having bribed Edward H. Pyatt, an officer of the Government, for the purpose of influencing him in his decisions, &c. Mr. Donah was examined before Commissioner Betts, and discharged on the ground that no bribery had been proved. Mr. Pyatt now addresses the following card to the readers of the TIMES on the subject:

CARD.

While the proceedings were pending, several weeks ago, against certain distillers whose distilleries were seized on the 9th ult., several statements were published in some of the City papers which placed my connection with the frauds of the distillers in a false light. No detriment can now accrue to the interests of the Government by stating the facts, which are my sufficient vindication. I had an interview with the Commissioner of Internal Revenue at Washington in January last, and after describing the various modes in which distillers in this City were defrauding the Government, I showed him how some of these frauds could be detected and punished. The course which I proposed to take was distinctly made known to him, and was afterwards carried out with his knowledge, as well as that of George W. Guysi, Special Agent of the Treasury Department, David Dows & Co., and other respectable and responsible parties. The sums of money paid by the illicit distillers, as bribes or hush-money, were deposited from time to time, under instructions received by me. Mr. Guysi was constantly informed of transactions which implicated the parties who were committing the frauds, and the Commissioner of Internal Revenue was, from time to time, advised of the developments that were made. In consequence of these developments, preparations were made by the Department for a raid upon the distilleries, and finally, on the 9th of March, the seizures were made. I refer to any of the parties named to substantiate this statement.

In the Senate, yesterday, the bill to establish telegraphic communication between the United States and Cuba was taken up on a question to concur in the House amendments. The Senate refused to concur, and a Committee of Conference was appointed. Mr. WILSON offered a resolution granting the use of the Senate chamber to JAMES E. MURDOCH, to give readings, on Thursday evening next, in aid of the fund for the establishment of a Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphan Asylum. Objection being made, the resolution went over. The special order of the day, the bill for the relief of certain naval contractors, was taken up. The pending question was on the motion to postpone the bill to the first Monday in December. After a long discussion of the bill the vote was taken on the motion to postpone and lost—yeas 11, nays 25. A motion to recommit was also lost, and the bill was then passed. Mr. WILSON offered a joint resolution for an amendment to the Constitution embodying a plan of reconstruction.

In the House, Mr. KASSON offered a resolution, which was adopted, requesting the President of the United States to cause to be communicated to the House a collection of the provisions in reference to the freedmen contained in the amended Constitutions of the Southern States, and in the laws passed by these States since the overthrow of the rebellion. After disposing of various private bills, the consideration of the Northern Pacific Railroad Bill was resumed, and debated by several members. On motion of Mr. SPALDING, the bill was finally laid on the table—yeas 76, nays 56. A motion to reconsider was lost.

Mr. ALBERT, ex-member of the French Republican Government of 1848, having been prevented, by the infirmities of old age, from repairing to Chicago as ambassador of the French people to Mrs. LINCOLN, for the purpose of transmitting to her the gold medal in commemoration of President LINCOLN, it has been decided to forward the same to the Secretary of State, through the medium of the American Minister at Paris.

The rebel Capt. BURNETT, who killed Sergt. POLLARD, of the One Hundred and Eighty-seventh New-York, at Shell Mound, last July, has been unconditionally released by Gen. THOMAS, on account of the dying declaration of POLLARD that he was partly to blame, and he did not want BURNETT prosecuted.

Information has been received by the Treasury Department from the Canada frontier to the effect that smuggling has become so unpopular and hazardous that when practiced at all now, it is only in a small way. The recent steps taken by the Treasury officials, it is believed, have done much toward bringing about this state of things.

LOCAL NEWS.

At the meeting of the Metropolitan Board of Health yesterday, the Sanitary Committee reported circulars for distribution throughout the Metropolitan Health District. A letter was read from Dr. SWINBURNE, censuring Drs. DALTON and HARRIS for presuming to report the facts concerning the passengers of the steamship Virginia. The letter was, without comment, referred to the Sanitary Committee. The Quarantine Commissioners transmitted a note asking the Board to place at their disposal some suitable place whereon the well passengers of the Virginia may be landed; but the Board did not deem it prudent to comply with this request. A delegation from the Citizens' Association visited the Board, and made arrangements for an interview with Drs. PARKER and STONE, at 3:30 P. M. on Monday, in Police Trial Chambers, the conference to be open to the public. Commissioner BERGEN introduced resolutions looking to the cleaning of the streets of Brooklyn by the Board of Health.

Liquor-venders who are desirous of securing license may obtain blank applications from the Captains of their respective precincts; but no Captain is to give a blank to any dealer whom he cannot recommend as a proper person to sell liquors. No woman's application is to be considered for a moment. Among the gentlemen who called upon the Excise Board's Committee on Applications yesterday were: Ex-Gov. HORATIO SEYMOUR, "Governor" DAVIS, of Coney Island, and Mr. GEORGE LAW. The landlord of the Louvre applied for license, and was told that he must dismiss his feminine waiters. This he consented to do.

Dr. BISSELL's latest report, dated Thursday night, notes three more deaths, and says that there were then eighty-eight patients on board the hospital ship at Lower Quarantine. The passengers on board the steamship England drew up a strong protest on Thursday against the action of the authorities in keeping them in quarantine. The passengers on both vessels at quarantine are now bountifully supplied with good provisions, two thousand pounds of fresh beef being sent down daily.

In the Police Courts, yesterday, the following commitments were made: RUDOLPH SHRIEVER, on a charge of having stabbed HERMAN DENTCH in a quarrel; ELIAS STEIN, on a charge of larceny; LEVI MORRIS, charged with shoplifting, the goods being found in his possession; THOS. CORBETT, on a charge of having stolen a silver watch from THOS. MCKEE; NETTIE CARR, on a charge of grand larceny.

A motion was argued, yesterday, in the Supreme Court, before Justice CLERKE, to dissolve a temporary injunction in the case of WM. W. AVERILL vs. JEROME, RIGGS and others. The action relates to the Averill Oil and Coal Company, who own between three and four thousand acres of land in West Virginia. The Court reserved its decision.

The Political Future.

We copy from the Auburn Advertiser a brief article which presents considerations worthy of attention concerning the probable drift of political events. The writer has the faculty, rare just now, of looking at things as they are, and not as he would like to have them. If more of our public men could bring themselves into this frame of mind, we should have a better chance of reaching a beneficent solution of the complicated political problems of the day. After civil war, the first and most absolute necessity, always and in every country, is pacification,—or soothing of the resentments and passions out of which the rebellion sprung, and a restoration of the mutual harmony and coöperation which are essential to the public good. A successful performance of this great task demands the utmost candor, toleration and forbearance on the part of those who have it in hand. Peace must be sought in the spirit and by the ways of Peace. The hatreds and hostilities incident to war, and essential to its vigorous prosecution, must give place to other feelings and to another temper when the question becomes one of peace. Up to the present time Congress has failed in this most essential matter. Its tone has been angry, distrustful, hostile; and its plans of action have been inspired by this spirit and animated by this temper. And to a very great extent the public feeling has been of the same kind.

The writer in the Advertiser points out the futility of the aims and expectations which seem thus far to have prompted public action on the subject of Restoration. The schemes by which Congress seeks security for the future, through amendments of the Constitution, are shown to be without any solid practical foundation. And he directs attention to the collision which is almost inevitable, between contending parties in the country, unless a practical solution of pending problems is arrived at. If the South is excluded from being represented in Congress or in the Electoral College, and should choose, in connection with those Northern States which may agree with them as to their right of representation, electors enough to constitute a majority of the Electoral College, is it to be supposed that the President so chosen could be peacefully excluded from the Presidential office? And the same collision may occur at the meeting of the next Congress.

The Advertiser presents this matter as one worthy of consideration. It certainly deserves it, indeed, at the hands of all who properly appreciate the importance of peace and harmony to the public welfare.

The Board of Health and Excise Regulations.

The whole Metropolitan community relies, with good faith, upon the Board of Health, both as to its personnel and to the aims of those who passed the measure under which it exercises the extraordinary powers it holds in trust.

The Excise regulations constitute a most important feature in the discretionary authority of the Commissioners. These regulations will, doubtless, take a shape which will not interfere with the legitimate trade, however humble may be its character. The corner-grocery man may not be, in all things, the highest type of the City trader. But he is useful, and—more than this—he is a necessity. If he sells a glass of beer to the unskilled laborer or the artizan from the end of his counter, by the pint or the quart, let him do so, and do so in peace. Half his customers live in the upper stories of the building where the grocery-man does business. And if they fail to get the supply of beer, which is a solid comfort in its way, at their own corner, they will most surely get it of a worse quality, at another corner.

Let the corner-grocery man, therefore, have his due. He is not, perhaps, a predestined angel; but he is useful. He ought not to make his shop a roystering tavern on Sundays, or any other days; but if he can sell his neighbor-lodger a wholesome glass of beer, at a cheap rate, and count it in with the week's grocery-bill—in the name of a bountiful Providence let him do so.

This, we trust, will be the view taken of the legitimate operation of the new Excise Law by the Health Commissioners, as far as regards the groceries. They will not constitute themselves a Sumptuary Board. They will look, in a liberal spirit and with broad aims, to the general comfort, happiness and well-being of the whole community. If they fail in this they will, most assuredly, come to an untimely end.

The Public Funds—Their Steady Appreciation.

It would seem, from the tenor of private dispatches by the Africa to leading banking-houses in this City, that we were correct in interpreting the latest news from abroad as more encouraging, at least, for our financial, if not likewise for our commercial interests, than had been the advices by the Nova Scotian and the first published telegrams from the Africa. The very latest private messages from London (to the close of business, April 14) place United States Five-twenties in that market as high as 68¾, May coupon off, which substantially restores them to the figures reported by the America, allowing for the deduction of the semi-annual coin interest. The very latest private accounts from Frankfort (to Sunday afternoon, April 15) give the ruling price for the favorite American security there as 73⅞, ex the 1st of May coupon, or equal to about 69¼, May coupon off, in the London market. From these dispatches it would be evident that the turning point in the depression of our national stocks abroad has been literally reached; that the rally in prices had fairly and sturdily commenced; and that confidence in their thorough reliability and unrivaled lucrativeness, as an investment, was increasing apace.

Our own market yesterday gave further proof of its strength, in the form of an additional rise of ¼@⅜ of one per cent. in the first issue of Five-twenties, with which the foreign buyers are most familiar. Sales were made as high as 106⅜@106½, or equal to 102⅜, May coupon off. At even these quotations the available supply was unusually limited, the recent steadily augmenting investment drain having very effectually cleared the market of all floating lots. The home demand is still so urgent that no difficulty whatsoever can arise in the way of finding eager purchasers at the going rates for any of our public stocks likely to be returned from abroad for realization here. As stated in our money column, "thus far the actual return of these bonds has not amounted to a single week's demand from domestic buyers for investment, while, at the same time, very heavy sales have been indulged in, on speculation, of bonds 'to arrive,' or, more properly speaking, of bonds expected to be bought back here, if not brought back from abroad, at lower figures." An effort has been made within the last day or two to cover these short sales by purchases in this market. It has been only partially successful, and even thus successful only at the cost of an additional rise in the price. The market, in its present temper, is fully equal to the absorption of all speculative offerings that may be ventured upon; and this, too, without arresting the upward course of values, strengthened as it is by the extraordinary abundance of money, which fails to find profitable employment in any other well-protected forms—by the progressive improvement in the financial position of the country—and by the practically permanent withdrawal from the market of the Government as a borrower.

The comfortable and assuring condition of the national finances is indicated by the instructions of Secretary MCCULLOCH to the Assistant Treasurers in the large cities, and the depositaries of public moneys generally, to allow no higher rate of interest than four per cent. per annum on temporary deposits made on and after May 1, until "further notice," which proviso is construed as meaning an early abandonment of the plan of receiving those temporary deposits on any terms. It is further indicated by the readiness with which Congress responds to the demands of the people, in making such reductions of the legal taxes as are compatible with the solvency of the Republic, and its determination to discharge its indebtedness as swiftly as feasible, by, if not before, the full maturity of its obligations, floating and funded. It is still more conclusively demonstrated by the unlimited confidence of men of means in the superiority of the public funds, as an investment of the very best class.

From this confidence has sprung the demand for the national interest bearing obligations, which has swept the market clean of all accumulations; which, in a very short period, has carried the price of the Six per cents of 1881 from 104¼ to 108¼; the Five-twenties (original issue) from 103½ to 106½; the Ten-forties, Five per cents, from 91 to 99; the Seven-thirties, from 96¾ to 101¼; one-year Certificates of Indebtedness from 97½ to 100¼, and the Compound-Interest legal-tenders to an equivalent of their full par value and the whole of the accrued interest; and which is likely to carry them to much higher figures before Mid-summer.

In view of all these circumstances, we are not surprised to learn from Washington that, in high legislative as well as in executive circles, confidence is expressed in the entire feasibility of marketing five per cent. bonds at par, in sufficient volume to provide for all the short-date obligations of the Treasury Department, and thus effectually relieve the Government from all sources of embarrassment, slight or serious. The revenues of the nation were never so marvelously prolific. They now far exceed the December estimates of Secretary MCCULLOCH, though they are not ahead of our own anticipations. The national expenses are being retrenched with commendable energy. The industry and commerce of the country are unusually prosperous, considered as a whole. The money market is suffering from what the money writers call "a plethora" of surplus capital, which is in great need of a secure outlet to prompt, permanent and lucrative employment. The disturbances of Old-World concerns make very little, if any, impression on our great national interests. Everything, indeed, premises auspiciously for the speedy and successful inauguration of the funding process, by which Secretary MCCULLOCH will be enabled to place the public indebtedness in a manageable form, on terms in harmony with the illimitable resources and unblemished credit of the Republic.

The German War—Probability of Actual Hostilities.

The opinion of the mercantile community appears to be against the probability of a war between Austria and Prussia, and yet it is difficult to see with what reason, except the manifest dangers to both parties. But opinions based on the prudential motives which should affect two communities whose passions are aroused, are often mistaken—as was strikingly shown in the opening of our civil war. The almost united judgment of our business classes and those of Europe was against the chances of a collision until the first warlike movement of the South. Ambition and passion will outweigh sometimes all considerations of interest with people as well as individuals.

The American public are apt to look upon this threatened collision as a sudden and almost uncaused outbreak, and are therefore inclined to doubt its coming to anything more than have most of the petty German quarrels of this century. But this is an ancient struggle. It dates back at least to the times of FREDERICK the Great, when Prussia first assumed its claim to a political and military equality with Austria, and when a long and wasting contest decided that the old supremacy of the Austrian Empire had now at least a rival. Since then the struggle, both in diplomacy and on the field, has continued with more or less intermissions till 1850, when the armies of the two Powers stood face to face, even more threateningly than they do now, but when war was avoided, to the intense disgust of the Prussian people, by the timidity of the King, the brother of the present sovereign. Austria has preserved, since that year, a decided supremacy in Germany, which was not weakened by her defeat in Italy, (as the Germans look upon Solferino as one of the Pyrrhus defeats, another of which would have ruined the victor.)

The Danish war, however, which was popular in Germany—the brilliant success of the Prussians, and above all, the audacious and shrewd diplomacy of VON BISMARCK, whereby Prussia seemed alone to reap all the fruits of victory, and Austria to retire discomfited, have regained Prussia's old position in the so-called Confederacy.

The Austrians have felt keenly their position in losing all control over the Duchies, and (as it is well known) it is the dispute over their joint governorship of these Provinces which now threatens the disturbance of the peace of Europe. The nominal cause is the control of the Duchies; the real question is the supremacy in Germany.

The motives and inducements to an armed collision are many. Prussia is led by a singularly bold and unscrupulous politician, whose aims are distant and ambitious; the King is professedly a soldier, and cannot therefore readily retire from a threatening position; the Treasury is in the best condition; there is a perfect military organization; the people on the whole are not disinclined for a brush, (for we do not set much on those meetings of Liberals reported by the last mails,) and without doubt the nation in their secret heart sympathize with the "noble passion" of Von BISMARCK, who looks to no petty results from this war, but who is willing to stake Prussia's position as a first-class Power in the chance of her absorbing half Germany, and reducing Austria to a petty Kingdom, composed of Tyrol and Hungary and a few appendages.

The audacious diplomat has already signified to the Diet that it has outlived its usefulness, and that a new one should be summoned on universal suffrage—a proposition which all Germans but the Princes and their courts will hail with delight. It is a proclamation that Prussia has thrown down her glove for the supremacy of Germany. She has already signified, with characteristic hauteur, that, if attacked by Austria, she shall "know no neutrality in Germany."

To Austria's demand for the disbanding of her army, she has replied with a stern negative, and with words of no diplomatic gentleness as to the concealed armaments of Austria. Everything indicates the vigor, pride and broad preparation of a determined man and a statesman.

Italy is already allured into something which seems like an alliance, and 100,000 Italians are concentrated on the frontier of Venetia—a bold step for both Prussia and Italy. France has been approached, and a pamphlet circulates freely in Paris which is designed to win over the people to a Prussian alliance.

The unequaled Prussian organization is now quietly made use of, and though we only hear of four corps under arms, there are undoubtedly some 250,000 men who can immediately be thrown on the Silesian or Saxon frontier. The artillery—in which Prussia is thought to be far in advance of her rival—is hastening by every train to the Southern and Eastern borders.

Nor are there wanting sufficient motives to thrust Austria into the struggle. In no way could Austrian pride be so humiliated as by submission to Prussia. Even the Kaiser's popularity could not survive any yielding on this question to the old rival. Like her opponent, Austria has been arming and preparing for years for just such a contest. It may be a life and death struggle for her; for the Empire, humbled in Germany, stripped of her Northern provinces and of Italy, would become merely a second or third-rate monarchy. Her resources are still large, and she has an unresisted conscription, which she can exercise over thirty millions of people; her army has a great prestige, and has seen considerable active service. If pushed hard, she must fight. And yet the dangers are vast. A civil or religious commotion is still stirring in Bohemia; revolution has broken out on the Lower Danube, and Russia may yet occupy those provinces; Hungary is barely pacified, perhaps in danger of explosion; a Power with 400,000 men, and GARIBALDI to lead or inspire, must be resisted on the south, while her rival can place in the field 400,000 men on the north, and, if joined by the minor Powers, can furnish 200,000 more; her own finances are barely recovered from bankruptcy: under all these dangers and difficulties she must commence the war; and yet, if attacked, she must fight, and history admonishes us not to be confident that her opponent will have an easy time with her. Neither party probably knows the position of France on the question. On that will hang—it may be—peace or war. If there be war without regard to the interposition of France, it will be a desperate, destructive, and most important contest, to end either in an entire remodeling of the Bund with Prussia as the head, and Austria permanently crippled, or with Austria leading the German States and Prussia reduced to the importance of Bavaria or Saxony.

THE MORMONS.—We are sorry to hear of some squabbling, and a few collisions, between the Mormons and the Gentiles in Utah. It was such a condition of things that brought on the Mormon "war" of ten years ago in the same locality. We are in no particular dread of hostilities there now, because we have a sufficient military force in the Territory to overpower the Mormons in case of any hostile manifestations on their part, but still we do not see any necessity for this stirring up of strife. And we confess we think the Gentiles are at this time not the least to blame in this matter. We derive this idea mainly from the "Gentile" organ itself, published at Salt Lake City—the Vedette. The violent and insulting character of its language toward the "Saints" of both sexes, the style in which it narrates what must justly be considered as outrages on the Mormon faith and customs, the incidents of uncalled-for interference on the part of our troops with Mormon affairs and interests, do not incline us to regard their conduct any more favorably. We need but a very small military force in Utah, and this should be mainly for service against the Indians—though in this matter, again, we are compelled to say we cannot admire the proceedings of the last three years. We have no doubt that on all these questions Gen. GRANT will, now that he has leisure, give Gen. CONNOR some advice. The Mormon problem will find its solution in a few short years without anything like fighting or strife—if we only act with reasonable discretion.

PUBLIC PURIFICATION.—Those who have already been engaged in accusing the Board of Health of doing nothing, or causing nothing to be done in the way of the sanitary improvement of the City, assuredly have not made themselves familiar with those parts and streets which most require attention. In some of the sections alluded to, which we have lately visited, for example, we have never, in all the period of our knowledge of the City, known the streets in such cleanly condition; and of all the difficult things that need to be done in this municipality, everybody knows that this is the most difficult of accomplishment. We can specify streets, both on the east side and on the west side of the City, both up-town and down-town, that have for years been intolerable, but are now as decent as their intrinsic character will permit. It is quite true that it is not the Board of Health that directly attend to this work, but those acquainted with affairs know well enough the part they have had in bringing it about. Were this alone all the benefit the Board had rendered the City, it would be incalculable.

MEXICO AND AUSTRIA.—With the certainty of the withdrawal of the French troops from Mexico, and the determined purpose of our Government to prevent their being replaced by Austrians, the future fortunes of MAXIMILIAN do not appear very brilliant. The Mexican Republicans will doubtless from this time forward try to make his place as unpleasant as possible, to thwart in all possible ways his plans, and to embroil all parts of the country to the greatest degree possible. MAXIMILIAN can without difficulty find an excellent excuse for leaving the wretched nation. There is every likelihood that Austria will be plunged into a desperate war before long; and as MAXIMILIAN was formerly at the head of the Austrian navy, which he did very much to bring to such effectiveness as it possesses, he will be imperatively needed again in the position which he has already so ably filled. He ought to be at home when his own country is in such a crisis, and the crown of his family has to confront such perils.

RENTS AND HOUSES IN THE CITY.—As we approach nearer and nearer to the first of May, there seems to be more and more houses in different parts of the city to let. All the villages and localities around appear also to be inviting people to leave the city, by offering houses at quite reasonable rents. The public have got quite over the excitement about house-room, which a couple of months ago threatened to rise to the height of a panic. Such rents as were demanded then are hardly spoken of anywhere now. In fact, had property holders adhered to them, the business of the city would have been vastly damaged, and tens of thousands of people would have left New-York on the 1st of May.

KEEPING US EXCITED.—If the City should have a visitation of the cholera, we shall doubtless suffer heavily from two classes of people and papers—those who attempt, by extravagant language and extravagant statements, to strike the public with panic, and those who, in equally exciting language, beg the public not to allow themselves to be panic-stricken. We do not know which class is worst, and which sort of talk is most to be deprecated. We have had examples of both in some of our City papers already; and both have precisely the same sort of effect, to about exactly the same degree.

THE "SATURDAY NIGHT."—The Philadelphia Saturday Night, a most interesting weekly journal, publishes in the current number the first part of an admirable story by Capt. MAYNE REID. The Saturday Night is a very handsome and carefully conducted literary journal.

NEW BOOKS.

THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO MARK. By JOHN PETER LANGE, D. D., Professor of Theology at the University of Bonn. Revised from the Edinburgh Translation, with additions by W. G. T. SHEDD, D. D.
THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO LUKE. By J. J. VAN OOSTERZEE, D. D., Professor of Theology in the University of Utrecht. Translated from the second German edition, with additions, original and selected, by PHILIP SCHAFF, D. D., and Rev. CHARLES C. STARBUCK. New-York: CHARLES SCRIBNER & Co.

It is gratifying to record the remarkable success of so great an enterprise as this, and one of such importance to the entire Christian community. The first volume of Lange's Commentary (that on Matthew) was published about a year ago, before the war was fairly closed, and while the attention of the public was absorbed with other than peaceful topics; yet its sale has already reached the large number of six thousand copies, and the demand for it is still unabated. Such a result with a volume so expensive as this both justifies the enterprise of the publishers, and is the best possible indorsement of the excellence of the work itself. The commentaries on Mark and Luke are comprised in one volume, and the plan is, of course, the same as that of Matthew. The chapters are divided according to topics, and the notes under each division are classed as "exegetical and critical," "doctrinal and ethical," and "homiletical and practical." This classification in connection with the typographical arrangement makes the volumes all that could be desired as books for reference and consultation. In preparing the work, Dr. LANGE, as is well known, has had the assistance of the prominent Dutch and German Evangelical Divines—men who are proëminent for their piety and learning—and here the general editorial supervision of the work has been entrusted to that genial Christian scholar Dr. PHILIP SCHAFF, who is peculiarly fitted for the work by nationality and education. In turn, he has had the cordial coöperation here of the most eminent Biblical students of all denominations, and the work is, therefore, far more than a mere translation of the German original. In an editorial note, Dr. SCHAFF states that he learns by a letter from Dr. LANGE that most of the Old Testament books are now distributed among sound and able Divines, although it is impossible to say when the whole will be completed. Nearly all the parts published in German are already in the hands of the American translator; and several of them are already approaching completion. The Acts of the Apostles, the catholic Epistles, and the Book of Genesis will probably be published before the end of the year. Dr. SCHAFF declares it to be the purpose of himself and his co-laborers "to prepare, on an evangelical catholic basis, the very best commentary for practical use which the combined scholarship and piety of Europe and America can produce." Thus far this end has been fully reached, and laymen and clergymen alike will watch the development and progress of the work with interest.

THE ADVENTURES OF REUBEN DAVIDGER. Seventeen Years and Four Months Captivity among the Dyaks of Borneo. By JAMES GREENWOOD, author of "Wild Sports of the World." Illustrated with numerous engravings. New-York: HARPER & BROTHERS.

Mr. JAMES GREENWOOD is one of those fortunate litterateurs who now and then, in entire unconsciousness of what they are about, make some lucky hit which secures them fame, establishes their reputation, and makes people desirous of reading not only all what they may write but all that they have ever written. He spent a night in a London workhouse, putting himself in the shoes, or more properly the clothes, of a pauper, and having received the same treatment and suffered from the same neglect that this God-forsaken portion of humanity endure in the great metropolis, and told his story in the Pall Mall Gazette. The narrative was sickening, and it was skillfully, because truthfully, told. The amour propre of John Bull was touched, and any writer who can succeed in that difficult exploit always commands a hearing in the sea-girt isle. Englishmen wanted to know what Mr. JAMES GREENWOOD had done before, and volumes which had grown dusty upon the booksellers' shelves were not only easily disposed of but reprinted. Ergo they must be reproduced here, and the Adventures of Reuben Davidger is the first result of this temporary mania. We have sketched the development of this phenomenon, because it needs an explanation. In the volume itself there is certainly nothing to warrant its reproduction. It is a mild imitation of MAYNE REID, with a weak mixture of Robinson Crusoe. The author expresses the hope if the reader should "light on crumbs of useful information" in reading the book, "that the dish in its entirety will not be deemed less palatable." He might have saved himself the utterance of the wish. The "crumbs of useful information" alluded to are so infinitesimal in size, and so few in number, that they need not have troubled the conscience of the author; and scattering and small as they are, they only remind us of the disgusting habits and customs of a people regarding whom we do not care to know any more than we can help. Some of the illustrations might be classed as artistically good, if they were not so painfully true to nature.

THE WORKS OF THE RIGHT HON. EDMUND BURKE. Revised Edition. Vol. V. Boston: LITTLE, BROWN & Co.

The publication of this admirable edition proceeds steadily, and now we have the fifth volume, containing, among other important papers, "The Observations on the Conduct of the Minority," and the "Three Letters to a Member of Parliament on the Proposals for Peace with the Regicide Directory of France." BURKE could have desired no better monument to his memory in America than that which Messrs. LITTLE & BROWN are erecting in this, for them, the second edition of his works, and it is not a little remarkable that it should have been left for publishers on this side the water to issue the first carefully revised edition of the speeches and papers of the great statesman. Since this edition is textually and typographically so far superior to any ever issued, we trust that the publishers will complete the work they have so well begun by including in it all the supplementary volumes of speeches and correspondence not given in their former nine-volume edition of 1858, and by seeing that a copious analytical index such as is absolutely indispensable to the historical student is added. Singularly enough, this most essential feature has been entirely wanting in all preceding editions.

SONGS OF THE NOON AND NIGHT. By M. ELVA WOOD. New-York: D. APPLETON & Co.

For a first attempt this is certainly a creditable one. The songs, though containing not a few of the many faults to which inexperienced writers are liable, and which require merely to be pointed out to prevent their repetition, are yet full of passages of poetic beauty. The two longest and most ambitious attempts of the author comprised in this volume are "Melanius" and "Robert," the latter reminding the reader somewhat too closely of the plot of "Enoch Arden." Among the shorter poems which will repay perusal are "The Sparrow Guest" and "Contentment," both of which come nearer to the standard of true poetry than any others in the book. In descriptions of nature the author is peculiarly happy, and it is from this source that she has chiefly drawn her inspiration. The volume is a beautiful specimen of typography.

THE GOLD BRICK. By Mrs. ANN S. STEPHENS. Philadelphia: T. B. PETERSON & BROTHERS.

The peculiarities of Mrs. STEPHENS' writings in general are so well known that it is altogether unnecessary to discuss or criticise them, and of the Gold Brick in particular very little need be said save that it is marked by all her faults and extravagances, with very few compensating excellences. The story opens at Port-au-Prince in the midst of the Jamaica massacres, and then comes back to Connecticut and the vicinity of New-Haven, with the side scenes laid in New-York. The Jamaica massacres are dwelt upon at such length as to prove that Mrs. STEPHENS has no objections to describing the horrible, and throughout the whole story the reader comes upon scenes which are coarse and revolting in the extreme. The Gold Brick will probably find its way to the libraries which contain Fashion and Famine and other kindred works of the sensational order, but it will not extend the circle of Mrs. STEPHENS' admirers.

Beadle's Monthly (New-York: BEADLE & Co.) opens with an illustrated article commemorative of "Sherman's Bummers." The operations of Sheridan's cavalry at Winchester are briefly sketched by a former officer in the command; and various short stories, poems, historical sketches, &c., make up a very readable number.

AMUSEMENTS.

GERMAN OPERA.—Only one act of the "Tannhauser" was given last evening, much to the disappointment of those present. The continued indisposition of two of the artists rendered it impossible to do more than this. For the same reason there will be no matinée to-day. Our readers, therefore, need be under no anxiety about procuring their tickets at the music stores in order to avoid the crowd at the doors—a piece of friendly advice which we have often been called upon to give them in these columns. Notwithstanding the disappointment last evening on the subject of WAGNER's music, there was a liberal provision for the enjoyment of the patrons. The whole of MOZART's charming opera of the "Magic Flute" was given—making, it will be seen, a bill of unusual attractiveness. The overture to the "Tannhauser" was played effectively. Mr. NEUNDORFF kept the orchestra together with his customary vigor, but there was a lack of coloring, and hence of clearness, delicacy and contrast. The act opened with the unaccompanied and unfollowable shepherd's song, with its dreary ritornelle for the oboe. Mlle. DZIUBA sang it creditably, and was warmly applauded by a gentleman in the amphitheatre. The pilgrim's chorus which follow (not the great one) was sung correctly but tamely. It made no effect. The rest of the act is entirely septette, and very excellent septette. Wolfram's incidental solo, an honest and straightforward melody, with all the natural endings purposely blunted in order to display originality, was charmingly sung by Mr. WILLIAM FORMES. The concluding portion of the septette passed off pleasantly, and the curtain descended. There was not a sound of approval. To us, however, sufficient had been given to cause a regret that the entire work could not have been performed.

MOZART's "Magic Flute" was presented very acceptably, and gave infinite pleasure to the audience. All the healthy portion of the company was in the cast, and every one sang well. Mme. ROTTER being indisposed, a substitute had to be provided for the Queen of the Night. The lady was found at the last moment, and to the present hour her name is undivulged. Her debut was certainly successful. Although evidently suffering from fright she displayed many excellent qualities of voice and method. The famous aria was hurried, and the high notes were not produced pleasantly, but the concluding trill was good, and brought down the house. The lady is undoubtedly an artiste, and we shall be mistaken if we do not have other opportunities of speaking of her powers.

To-night at the Brooklyn Academy of Music the same opera will be repeated.

THE MAGIC FLUTE IN BROOKLYN.—To-night Mr. GROVER will present at the Brooklyn Academy of Music the favorite opera of the "Magic Flute," whose melodious notes and delicious harmonies should not fail to draw a full, as they will not to delight an appreciative house. It will be the last opera given at that place for the present.

MISS MITCHELL IN BROOKLYN.—The well-known play of "Little Barefoot" will be given at the Brooklyn Academy, on Monday and Tuesday next. She will be supported by members of the Winter Garden Company who played with Mr. BOOTH.

THE ELECTRIC GIRDLE EXTENDING.—A New-York Company by charter, and cosmopolitan in design, has undertaken the work of introducing the electric telegraph into China. Dr. MACGOWAN has been appointed by that Company—the East India Telegraph—to proceed to China forthwith as its Commissioner and engineer, to connect Pekin with Canton. He will be accompanied by a staff of telegraphers, and will employ a system which he long ago devised, by which messages can be transmitted in the hieroglyphic characters of the Celestials with great facility. Already the Company has obtained a concession which justifies the belief that the pressure which the various European Powers will bring to bear at Pekin, will secure every advantage that can be desired, those countries having possessions in Southeastern Asia, with which by this line they can communicate.

The Excise Law.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

Our last State Legislature have placed this community under great obligations, in furnishing us with so many of the appliances for accomplishing desirable and genuine reforms.

It has proved its capacity and honesty, and also manifested a disposition to provide suitable legislation for our misgoverned City.

The Excise Law just passed, and about to be put in execution, is a necessity not only for the regulation of the traffic in its proper form, but also for its destruction, where it is only an unmitigated curse and evil.

The Board of Health have pursued a proper course in fixing the rate of an excise license at a figure which will tend to extinguish many establishments which deserve just such a fate, but we do not believe it has acted wisely in fixing a uniform rate for all other dealers.

There are many respectable grocers who have complied with the late law in all respects for years past—have paid the license fee, and from principle have closed on the Sabbath and refused to maintain a bar. Certainly this class of dealers should not be punished for the sins of others.

Those who maintain the traffic in its most objectionable and demoralizing forms should be taxed more heavily than the others. The Board of Excise in the rate fixed upon seem to have reversed this order, and apparently put a premium on this evil instead of discouragement.

The course pursued by the National Government, is certainly the most equitable and wise one—that of a uniform rate or tax on every thousand dollars of sales, ($1 on every thousand.) Surely the dealer for example, whose business is $100,000 or more a year, should pay more than his which is but $25,000.

We hope the Board of Excise, whose motives are unquestionably just and good, will reconsider this matter of rates, and devise a plan by which this manifest injustice will be obviated.

The Cholera.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

Now that the cholera seems to be on the point of establishing itself among us, the following information may prove of use in regard to its treatment, especially in the absence of regular remedies, and I give the facts below for what they are worth.

In 1849 the packet ship Isaac Wright, then under the command of Capt. ALEX. C. MARSHALL, the uncle of the writer, was on her way from Liverpool to New-York, with a considerable number of steerage passengers on board. During the voyage the cholera made its appearance, and though the physician attached to the ship exhausted all the means in his power to combat the disease, forty or fifty persons died. At this juncture Capt. MARSHALL determined to administer a remedy, the receipt for which he had procured in Liverpool, and which consisted of a teaspoonful of the best Cayenne pepper, and a tablespoonful of salt mixed with a pint of hot water, the dose to be taken by the patient in the early stages of the complaint. This simple prescription was attended with the most gratifying results. Not a single death took place among either passengers or crew after its use became general, except in one or two instances where neglect or ignorance on the part of the sufferers allowed the disease to progress to a point where recovery was hopeless.

A similar proof of the efficacy of this remedy was afforded on a subsequent occasion on this very ship, which at that time was in charge of Capt. GEO. B. PEABODY. Forty-eight hours after leaving Liverpool the cholera broke out, and in ten days twenty-seven of the passengers fell victims. Recalling Capt. MARSHALL's method of treatment, Capt. PEABODY adopted it, and in his letter published at the time, and which I have now before me, he says: "I did not lose another patient during the passage." Capt. PEABODY also states: "I have known this remedy to be successfully used on board their ships by at least a dozen shipmasters besides myself. Its employment is quite general in Liverpool, and even some of the regular doctors find it to their advantage to resort to it."

I am, Sir, your most obedient servant,
CHARLES H. MARSHALL.

THE FENIAN FIZZLE.

Capt. Grace on B. Doran Killian—What He Thinks of O'Mahony—What He Tells the Circle.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Friday, April 27.

WM. H. GRACE, Fenian organizer, and Captain in the late Eastport expedition, has arrived here from Portland, on his way home.

He says the expedition would have been a success had Gen. KILLIAN been sustained.

He considers O'MAHONY "an imbecile and a fraud on the public," and says that the "only hope of success now is in supporting ROBERTS and SWEENEY."

He has told the Circle here to send no more money to Union Square.

Failure of the Eastport Expedition—A Mutiny and Free Fight among the Brethren.

PORTLAND, Me., Friday, April 27.

The New-Brunswick arrived from Eastport this morning with 200 Fenians.

On leaving for Boston several who had gone ashore were left behind.

At the entrance of the harbor, the Fenians, who were spoiling for a fight, mutinied, drew their pistols on their officers, and obliged the boat to put back.

Some of the ringleaders were put ashore and sent on by rail, and the boat proceeded at 9 o'clock.

The Fire in Detroit—Great Loss of Life.

DETROIT, Friday, April 27.

The loss to the Detroit and Milwaukee Railroad by the fire last night will reach $200,000, and the Michigan and Southern Railroad will probably lose $20,000.

The fire was occasioned by a barrel of kerosene oil, which, leaking, was ignited by a lamp. The fire spread in all directions, and in a few seconds the building and ferry-boat Windsor were wrapped in flames.

A lamentable loss of life occurred on the boat. The Tribune gives the names of twenty-eight deck hands, firemen and porters who are supposed to have been burned or drowned.

The boat was towed to the Canada shore, where she burned to the water's edge.

The passenger trains on both roads are running without interruption. Temporary shelter has been provided, and no detention will occur in the transmission of freight.

English Contributions to the Freedmen's Bureau.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE,
WASHINGTON, April 21, 1866.

MY DEAR SIR: I have the pleasure of acknowledging the receipt of your letter of the 19th instant, together with the generous gift of Hon. ARTHUR KINNAIRD and Sir MORTON PETO for the relief of the freedmen of the Southern States. In reply, I have to inform you that I hastened to perform the agreeable duty you assigned to me by transmitting the contribution of these gentlemen and a copy of your letter upon the subject to Major-Gen. HOWARD, the Superintendent of the Freedmen's Bureau.

Faithfully yours, WILLIAM H. SEWARD.
THURLOW WEED, Esq., New-York.

GEN. HOWARD'S ACKNOWLEDGMENT.

WAR DEPARTMENT,
BUREAU OF REFUGEES, FREEDMEN AND ABANDONED LANDS, WASHINGTON, April 25, 1866.

Hon. Wm. H. Seward, Secretary of State:

SIR: In acknowledging the receipt of your letter of the 21st inst., covering a copy of a letter of Mr. THURLOW WEED to you, and two Bank of England notes of £50 sterling each, which you assure me "Hon. ARTHUR KINNAIRD and Sir MORTON PETO, of England, have contributed for the relief of the freedmen of the Southern States," allow me to say that it gives me great pleasure to know that while the loyal people of the United States have so generously given of their abundance for the support of the deserving freedmen, the heart of the English people has beat responsive, and in full sympathy with ours; and it affords me special satisfaction to be able to return through you my sincere thanks to Hon. ARTHUR KINNAIRD and Sir MORTON PETO, not only for their liberal gift, but for their persistent and eloquent defence of the cause of the Union during our war. I will take proper measures to use these contributions as will best subserve the object for which they were given.

I am, Sir, very respectfully, your obedient servant,
O. O. HOWARD,
Major-General, Commissioner.

A pair of swindlers have been playing off in Paris the following ingenious trick. A well-dressed man entered the evening before last a tobacconist's shop on the Boulevard Bonne Nouvelle, and after purchasing three cigars gave a 5f. gold piece in payment; but after receiving his change he declared that it was a 20f. piece which he had given, and on the woman who had served him asserting the contrary, he added that it was a piece of the reign of LOUIS PHILIPPE bearing the date of 1846; the shop-keeper then looked among the gold in her till, and finding a gold coin such as was described, supposed she had been mistaken, and at once gave him the difference. A police agent in plain clothes happened, however, to be standing by, and having his suspicions excited, determined to follow the stranger; he presently saw the individual join another man in the street, and the two went together to the Place de la Bourse, where they separated, and the second entered a tobacconist's, and after making a small purchase, gave in payment the identical 20f. piece received at the other shop. The confederate shortly after went in, and was repeating the same strategem as before when the police officer stepped forward and arrested him.

GENERAL CITY NEWS.

YOUNG MEN'S HOWARD ASSOCIATION.—This Society, recently organized under the auspices of some of our most prominent young men, is now in full operation. They have established their headquarters at No. 194 Broadway, where there will be some attaches present at all hours to give information or transact any business appertaining to the Association. This movement should receive encouragement, devoted as it is to the cause of benevolence. Should the cholera be a visitant among us this Summer, the amount of work to be done by the "Howards" will be enormous; but the Association is rapidly preparing for any emergency. Young men of good reputation desirous of joining this movement, and intending to remain in this City, and willing to act as nurses, &c., can enroll themselves at the headquarters. A meeting of the Society will be held at 4 P. M., on Saturday next.

SALE OF PAINTINGS.—Last evening Messrs. LEEDS & MINER closed the sale of the collection of paintings, the property of Mr. ROBERT SMITH, of Philadelphia. The attendance at the sale was good, but the prices obtained were extremely low, showing how imprudent it was to offer at this late season a collection containing many paintings of great beauty and value. However skeptical buyers might naturally be as to the originality of a "Titian" which sold for $145, or a Reubens for $190, there can be no doubt about the merit of others with less ambitious titles, among which might be named the four companion pictures by GIORDANO, "The Seasons," for which no bidder could be found at $500 each. So with all the best pictures of the collection, there were no bidders even at the low figures at which they were put up. There were many fair paintings obtained at low prices. It is to be regretted that this is not as pleasing a result to Mr. SMITH as to the purchasers.

CHRISTIAN UNION ASSOCIATION.—The Annual Communion Sermon will be preached by Rev. CHAS. [illegible], D. D., of Princeton, at 10½ A. M. to-morrow in the Presbyterian Church, corner Tenth-street and University-place, from the text: "By one spirit we are all baptized into one body." A Conference of this Association will be held Sunday afternoon at 3½. Subject of the Conference: "A Practical Church Union in Brooklyn for the purpose of more thoroughly Evangelizing the City."

CONFIRMATION BY BISHOP POTTER.—The rite of confirmation was administered in St. George's Church last evening by Bishop POTTER, who, in his impressive address, quoted the saying of one of old, that it was not necessary that one should do any thing to insure perdition of the soul; that the spirit of nature and the world, or as WATT's has it, corruption within and temptation without, would be sufficient to effect that end."

FOR SAVANNAH.—The new steamer Herman Livingston leaves for Savannah, Ga., at 3 P. M. to-day, from Pier No. 36 North River.

Coughs and Colds are often overlooked.—A continuance for any length of time causes irritation of the lungs or some chronic throat disease. "BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES" are offered in the fullest confidence in their efficacy, giving almost invariably sure and immediate relief.

The Last Days of Ex-President MARTIN VAN BUREN were made comfortable by the use of JONAS WHITCOMB'S ASTHMA REMEDY. Letters in our possession from his physician and from Mr. Van Buren himself, express much gratification with the results of its use.

Extract from the "Life of Washington Irving," by his nephew, Pierre M. Irving, vol. IV. page 272:

"The doctor prescribed, as an experiment—what had been suggested by Dr. O. W. Holmes on his late visit—Jonas Whitcomb's Remedy for Asthma,' a teaspoonful in a wineglass of water, to be taken every four hours. A good night was the result."

In no case of purely asthmatic character has it failed to give prompt relief, and in many cases a permanent cure has been effected. No danger need be apprehended from its use. An infant may take it with perfect safety. (See circular.)

THE ROMANCE-READING WORLD,
Charmed with the Opening Chapters of the new story,
THE LIGHT OF LOVE;
OR,
THE DIAMOND AND THE SNOWDROP,
BY
PIERCE EGAN, ESQ.,
Author of "Imogen," "The Poor Girl," "The Scarlet Flower," "Love Me, Leave me Not," "The Flower of the Flock," "Fair Lilias," &c., &c.
AWAITS WITH IMPATIENCE,
And the warmest anticipation of enjoyment,
ITS CONTINUATION IN THE
SUNDAY MERCURY
OF
TO-MORROW, APRIL 29.

Never, it is believed, has the first installment of any serial story so thoroughly provoked public curiosity, or taken such hold of the public imagination, as the three chapters of this wonderful romance, published in the SUNDAY MERCURY of the 22d inst. The printed in anticipation of an extraordinary demand fell far short of the requirements of New-York alone, to say nothing of the orders which have been pouring in during the past week from all parts of the country. In order that the later comers to the BANQUET OF ROMANCE may not be disappointed, the first course will be served again in TO-MORROW'S SUNDAY MERCURY, in the form of a clear and graphic synopsis of that portion of the story published on Sunday last. The abstract will be full and perfect, omitting no point of interest bearing upon the yet undeveloped mysteries of the narrative.

THE FOURTH AND FIFTH CHAPTERS

will follow the abridgement of the first, second and third, so that to-morrow's issue of the SUNDAY MERCURY will, in effect, contain FIVE CHAPTERS of this

MOST CAPTIVATING STORY.

One of the most remarkable features of "The Light of Love; or, The Diamond and the Snowdrop," is the striking contrast of character which it presents. Every individual that figures in the "strange eventful history" seems to have an opposite, and all, from high-born heiress to the cottage dame, from haughty peer to humble groom, are sketched with a force, a vigor, a delicate perception of the leading traits of human nature, good, bad and indifferent, which evince the highest genius in the author. It is not too much to say that he has breathed the breath of life into his creations, and made them, to the reader, realities never to be dismissed from the memory. The Earl of Lavington, whose naturally proud spirit is bowed down and subdued by a dread of impending evils to which to which no clue is furnished in the earlier chapters, and the bold and unscrupulous Young Neville of Red Hawk, who appears to hold the fate of the Earl and his family in his hands, and makes an insolent use of his power, are admirably portrayed. The story has

TWO HEROES,

Lord Erewood, the Earl's son, and his friend Eliot St. Croix, the Earl's Secretary, and it is difficult to say whether the bold, high-souled young Viscount, or the thoughtful and reticent Secretary is the more interesting character. One of the most interesting features of the Romance is that it has each of whom is a wonder. LADY ASTARLE VAVASOUR, sister to Lord Erewood, proud, wayward and yet tender; LADY GENEVIEVE AMONDERVILLE, ambitious, vain and vindictive, and sweet Chloris Amberly, the Snowdrop of the Cottage, are as unlike each other as it is possible to conceive, and yet they are all true women. The first two are at daggers drawn, and out of the keen encounter of their wits, their plots and counterplots, grow some of the most striking situations and exciting scenes and adventures in the story. As for the fair CHLORIS—well may Lord Erewood call her his "Snowdrop," and swear to forego a loftier alliance for her sake, for the author has made her a paragon of beauty and innocence that a king might be proud to wed. NEVILLE OF REDHAWK, the evil genius it would seem of the House of Lavington, is the beau ideal of a cool and consummate scoundrel, and the direct antagonism between his hard, scheming, remorseless disposition, and the open, chivalrous nature of Lord Erewood, is finely exhibited in the progress of the tale.

The underplot of the story is admirable, and the subordinate characters involved in it are depicted with infinite vigor. Pierce Egan is equally at home in comedy and tragedy, in the pathetic and humorous. He touches at will the solemn chords of the heart, or tickles the risible muscles. Flit, the dashing, daring, fun-loving groom of Lord Erewood; Blinkers, the malicious, revengeful man-servant of Redhawk (like master like man;) Amberly, the honest forester, father of the "Snowdrop of the Forest," Garforth, the jealous and diabolical steward, and Dame Amberly, the garrulous and simple-minded wife of the forester, and Lawyer Woolcomb, the case-hardened pettifogger, all stand out in relief like the figures in a panoramic picture. They portray themselves in the action of the story, and the story is all action—it never falters or flags. There is not a tame chapter in it from the first to the last.

Of all the productions of PIERCE EGAN, "The Light of Love; or, The Diamond and the Snowdrop," promises to be the most popular. It may be safely said that Œdipus himself could not guess at its denouement. The mystery thickens as the tale proceeds, and not until its solution bursts upon him toward the close will the reader have the slightest inkling as to how the complications are to end. But as order came out of chaos, so from the whirl of adventure and a labyrinth of perplexities, framed, as it would seem, by the Fates, with the assistance of the Furies, a rational and satisfactory conclusion is at last evolved.

In fertility of invention, PIERCE EGAN has no rival among living novelists. His stories are intensely sensational, for it is with the most powerful passions of human nature that he loves to deal. People who have a taste for the humdrum, slip-slop style of fiction, that composes the mind to sleep, are advised in advance that they will find no anodyne in his glowing pages. He never maunders. His lovers, his villains, his confiding and artless village maidens, his purse-proud oppressors, his vulgar tricksters, his manœuvering dowagers, his intriguantes, his passionate, imperious beauties, his honest yeomen, are

ALL INSTINCT WITH LIFE.

He gives form, substance, animation to all the dark propensities and highest attributes of humanity, and yet he never oversteps the possibilities.

"The Light of Love; or, The Diamond and the Snowdrop," differs materially from former stories by the same author. It displays a deeper insight into the motives and impulses which govern the conduct of men of every grade of intellect, every position in life, than any of his former works. It is essentially dramatic, and the effect it produces is more like that of an acted melo-drama of the highest class than of a novel. It differs, however, in one respect from a stage representation, inasmuch as the interest of the grandest and most absorbing play is interrupted and marred by occasional dull and inconsequent scenes, while in "The Light of Love" the march of events is rapid and continuous, and at every step some new marvel is developed. The curtain never falls, and the imagination and sympathy of the reader are kept perpetually on the qui vive.

It has been said of Sir Walter Scott that his heroines are all failures. Pierce Egan's female characters, on the other hand, are his master-pieces. He seems to have peeped into the hearts of all the varieties of womankind, and to have discovered all the impulses which sway them.

THE SUNDAY MERCURY of TO-MORROW will be eagerly looked for by all who commenced the new story in the issue of Sunday last, and to those who did not, it is proper to say that notwithstanding the extra preparations made to supply a largely increased demand, it will be best to by procuring copies as early as possible in the day.

FILTER THE WATER.

The Asiatic Cholera (see Tribune of July 7, 1858,) "Has made its appearance in London. Its first victim attributed his fatal malady to the poisonous impurities of the Thames, on which river he was employed as a lighterman."

The Diaphragm Filter, manufactured by ALEXANDER McKENZIE & CO., No. 35 West 4th-st., near Broadway, is the kind of porous filter to which I alluded in my recent report to the Croton Board. I consider the artificial sandstone which constitutes the filtering medium to be an excellent article for the purpose. The instrument is quite durable, and only requires to be reversed occasionally to insure its action.

DR. DILLENBACK
ON FOLLICULAR DISEASE OF THE THROAT.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

The mucous membrane lining the throat and air passages in a healthy condition presents a slightly red or rose colored appearance. When in a state of acute inflammation it assumes a deep scarlet or violet hue, depending on the form and intensity of the inflammation. In a chronic state the inflammation appears in irregular, circumscribed patches, more highly colored toward the centre, and fading into the natural color as we approach the circumference. In some conditions the throat has a dry and glossy appearance, in others it is pale, relaxed and œdematous. Again, we find the membrane literally covered with granulations, elevated points, varying in size from the head of a pin to that of a large-sized pea, and not unfrequently containing a straw colored fluid, and sometimes they are filled with puriform matter, in which case they are literally destroyed by ulceration, leaving small pits or indentations upon the surface.

And as the disease progresses the membrane becomes hypertrophied, diminishing the calibre of the air tubes, and consequently the amount of air received into the lungs. This is manifest by the shortness of the breath on running up a flight of stairs, or on ascending some eminence. The disastrous and melancholy results are still further witnessed in the quickened respiration, the hurried pulse, the loss of appetite, succeeded by functional derangement and universal prostration of all the vital energies of the system. This is but a natural result of the disease, an order of sequences just as sure to follow as are the changes of the seasons to follow each other. The frequency of this class of diseases, and the disastrous results to which they so often lead, should waken in us a sense of the danger to which we are exposed while suffering from any of the symptoms which characterize their growth and progress. So universally common and wide-spread have these diseases become, that scarcely a domestic circle can be found some of whose members have not been suffering in a greater or less degree from its destructive ravages.

These affections, if early submitted to a judicious course of treatment, can in most instances be easily arrested, but if from neglect or improper management the disease is allowed to progress, the lungs speedily become involved in its fatal meshes, and Consumption, with its innumerable train of horrors, is the final result.

The introduction of the Laryngiscope by Prof. Czermak has done much, within the past few years, to clear away the mystery and facilitate the treatment of this important disease. By it we have been enabled to light up the dark passages of the throat and larynx, and at a glance bring to view the whole interior structure of the vocal chords and adjacent parts; and thus we are able to determine the true character of the disease, whether it be the result of ulceration, cicatrization, or morbid growths, with as much certainty as if it were upon the external surface of the body.

Of all the numerous remedies that have from time to time been introduced for the relief and cure of these diseases, none has perhaps enjoyed such unprecedented popularity as "NITRATE OF SILVER." This has usually been applied by means of a whalebone and sponge. In this manner the throat has frequently been cauterized for many months together, and the last stage too often was worse than the first. Such was at one time the universal rage that every physician throughout the country was armed with a "whalebone and sponge," and he would as soon expect to be found without his lancet as to be wanting in this most important and useful article.

This treatment, I am sorry to say, has not met the earnest expectations of its enthusiastic advocates, nor the fondly cherished hopes of the profession. That Nitrate of Silver in some cases of ulceration is useful, yea, an important remedy, no one will attempt to dispute, but its universal application in all forms of throat disease is reprehensible, and should be discountenanced by every well informed and intelligent physician. Whatever temporary relief may have been derived from its application, the result must necessarily be attended with failure, since it is well known that a disease of the throat, whenever it has existed for any considerable length of time, it has in its downward tendency been transmitted to the trachea and bronchial tubes, parts beyond the reach of such local applications. It is easy to be seen that the bottom of the difficulty cannot be reached in this manner, nor yet by drugs administered through the stomach.

Years of patient observation and practical experience in this department of medicine fully justify the assertion that our only hope of success is in the administration of remedies by inhalation. By this simple and beautiful process, not only the throat and larynx, but the entire extent of the bronchial tubes and the remotest air-cells in the lungs can be relied upon, and all the diseased mucous surfaces be brought under the influence of a soothing, healing vapor, effecting every change or action necessary to be produced upon the part, and thus avoiding all the unhappy results too frequently occasioned by the action of irritating drugs upon the stomach.

Dr. DILLENBACK'S New Work on Consumption, embracing his entire plan of treatment is now ready.

Dr. DILLENBACK will be at his rooms at the Union-Place Hotel, New-York, on THURSDAY of each week.

HISTORY OF ENGLAND, from the Fall of Wolsey to the Death of Elizabeth. By JAMES A. FROUDE, M. A., of Exeter College, Oxford. From the fourth London edition. In crown 8vo. vols. Price $3 each.
(The other two volumes will follow shortly.)

Mr. Froude has shown in his admirable history what new results may be derived, even in the most beaten track, from a thorough investigation of the original authorities. His researches have thrown a flood of light over the personal character of Henry the Eighth, and his relation to the great event of modern history—the Reformation of Religion in Europe and the British Isles—that it would be in vain to seek elsewhere.

II.
A NEW VOLUME, PART II., OF STANLEY'S JEWISH CHURCH.
LECTURES ON THE HISTORY OF THE JEWISH CHURCH, FROM SAMUEL TO THE CAPTIVITY. By A. P. STANLEY, D. D. 1 vol. 8vo. Maps and Illustrations. Price $5.

From the London Athenæum.

Dean Stanley's recent Lectures on the Jewish Church have the same conciliating qualities as the old, now familiar to many readers. From the sacred books and from his own knowledge of Palestine, he tells the grand old story again; peoples the fields of Bethlehem with reapers, fights the battles of David, reviews the glory of Solomon, traces the great schism in Jewry, down to the days when the pastoral and warlike tribes were carried away captive. It is a bright and wonderful story; told by Dean Stanley much as the substance of Shakespeare is told by Charles Lamb.

ALSO, NEW EDITIONS OF
LECTURES ON THE HISTORY OF THE EASTERN CHURCH. By A. P. STANLEY, D. D. 1 vol. octavo. Price $4.
PART FIRST OF LECTURES ON THE HISTORY OF THE JEWISH CHURCH, FROM ABRAHAM TO SAMUEL. By A. P. STANLEY, D.D. 1 vol., octavo. Price $4.

GOVERNMENT SALE OF THE MILITARY RAILROAD AT BRAZOS SANTIAGO, TEXAS.

QUARTERMASTER-GENERAL'S OFFICE, WASHINGTON, D. C., April 19, 1866.

The attention of capitalists seeking a profitable investment, is invited to this sale.

Sealed proposals will be received at the office of the Quartermaster-General, (Division of River and Rail Transportation,) at Washington, D. C., until the first day of June next, at 12 o'clock, M., for the purchase of all the right, title and interest of the United States, in and to the United States Military Railroad from Brazos Santiago to White's Ranche, Texas.

The sale will include the entire track and sidings, buildings, water-stations, turntables, bridges, &c., the railroad materials and supplies pertaining to the road, together with the rolling-stock, cars, machinery and other equipment.

The sale will not include the title to the land, which does not belong to the United States.

This road is about ten miles in length, and extends from Brazos Santiago to White's Ranche, on the Rio Grande. From this point connection is made by steamer with Brownsville and Matamoras.

This route is the shortest and best for the immense traffic between the Gulf of Mexico and the interior of Southern Texas and Northern Mexico, and the communication by rail alone can readily be extended to Brownsville.

The road already completed saves thirty miles of difficult and tortuous navigation. Boats on the river now charge, it is stated, for freight to Brownsville, as high as $5 per barrel, and for passengers $15 each.

The road is five feet gauge, good ties, T rail, and full spiked.

More particular description of the property can be obtained at this office, or at that of the Chief Quartermaster Military Division of the Gulf, at New-Orleans.

A condition of the sale will be that transportation shall be furnished for all Government troops and supplies, whenever required, at the rates paid by Government at the time to the New-York Central Railroad.

The terms of payment accepted will be those considered the most favorable to the Government.

Ten per cent. cash, in Government funds, to be paid on acceptance of proposal.

The Government reserves the right to reject any or all proposals.

Proposals should be indorsed, "Proposals for purchase of Brazos Santiago and Rio Grande Railroad," and addressed to the Division of River and Rail Transportation, Quartermaster-General's office, Washington, D. C.

By order of the Quartermaster-General.
ALEXANDER BLISS,
Brevet Colonel and A. Q. M., in charge Fourth Division, Q. M. G. O.

MEDICAL.

CORDIAL

OF THE

BENEDICTINE MONKS

OF THE

ABBEY OF FECAMP.

This Cordial, which dates as far back as 1510, is an anti-apoplectic tonic, digestive, and of an exquisite taste. The salutary plants which compose it, gathered on the slopes of the hills of Normandy, saturated with the vivifying emanations of a Northern sea, makes it one of the best cordials and one of the most efficient preventives against epidemic affections.

Of late, the French Medical Corps has been almost unanimous in prescribing its use to the sick who, by their imperfect gastric disposition, were more liable to the attacks of fevers and cholera.

A. LEGRAND, Sen., Fecamp.

This Medicine is found at the Wine and Spirit Stores, Apothecaries, Confectioners and Groceries, &c., &c., all over the world.

MAURICEAU, Professor of Midwifery, Sole Agent and proprietor for upward of twenty years. Office No. 129 Liberty-st., or sent by mail in letter envelope.

THOUSANDS ARE TIMELY SAVED BY Dr. KENNEDY'S skillful and improved treatment.—Private diseases cured in the shortest possible time by Dr. KENNEDY & CO., No. 195 Elm-st., New-York, without the use of mercury, loss of time or change of diet. Dr. KENNEDY, from the hospitals of London, Paris and Edinburgh, is the discoverer of the only certain and reliable remedies for diseases of a private character. In 28 years' practice he has cured more cases of Secret Diseases and Wrong Treatment than all others combined. I can and will cure you in less time and at less expense than any other can or will, and those who have been robbed of their money and health, call; it will take but little money and time to restore you. If you have been unfortunate, call at once. By his special experience in this much neglected branch of medical science, he is enabled to guarantee a cure in the most complicated cases. Recent cases of Gonorrhœa or Syphilis cured in a few days, without change of diet or hindrance from business. Secondary Syphilis—the last vestige eradicated without the use of Mercury. Involuntary emissions stopped in a short time. Sufferers from impotency, or loss of sexual power, restored to full vigor in a few weeks, permanently and speedily cured by a new treatment. Persons at a distance failing to receive prompt treatment elsewhere, may get a permanent cure effected by writing a full diagnosis of their case, addressed to Dr. KENNEDY, No. 195 Elm-st. Call, send or write.

Also sold at the druggist's, No. 152 Greenwich-st., near Liberty-st. Madame RESTELL deems it her duty to caution ladies against imitators, who not only deprive them of their means, but their health.

CHORAL ORGANS.

It is admitted by all MUSICIANS who have examined the

CHORAL ORGANS,

that they combine more desirable qualities than any reed instrument ever before made. By a combination of arrangements, peculiar to the CHORAL ORGAN alone, the tone EXCELS in fullness, purity, and richness; and in the general mechanical arrangements of the instrument, it surpasses all others of its class. The patent Graduated Swell is controlled entirely by the feet, while blowing, requiring no change of position of hands or feet, thereby enabling the performer to produce all those beautiful effects for which the Organ is so eminently adapted. This SWELL is not a LOUD PEDAL only, but, as its name indicates, a SWELL, by which you glide from the PIANISSIMO to the FORTISSIMO at will, or instantly change from one to the other. This is peculiar to the CHORAL ORGAN. The voicing of the Reeds is done with the greatest care, in order to free them from the HARSHNESS often heard in reed instruments; and no one who listens to the CHORAL ORGAN but is attracted by the melodious sweetness of its tones. None should purchase an instrument of this class without first inspecting the CHORAL ORGAN.

STEINWAY & SONS'
GRAND, SQUARE AND UPRIGHT
PIANOFORTES

Have taken thirty-two First Premiums Gold and Silver Medals, at the principal fairs held in this country within the last ten years, and in addition thereto they were awarded a First Prize Medal at the Great International Exhibition in London, 1862, in competition with 269 Pianos from all parts of the world.

That the great superiority of these instruments is now universally conceded is abundantly proven by the fact that Messrs. Steinway's "scales, improvements and peculiarities of construction" have been copied by the great majority of the manufacturers of both hemispheres (as closely as could be done without infringement of patent rights) and that their instruments are used by the most eminent pianists of Europe and America, who prefer them for their own public and private use, whenever accessible.

STEINWAY & SONS direct special attention to their PATENT AGRAFFE ARRANGEMENT, which, having been practically tested in all their Grand and highest priced Square Pianos, and admitted to be one of the greatest improvements of modern times, will hereafter be introduced in every piano manufactured by them without increase of cost to the purchaser, in order that all their patrons may reap its benefit.

STEINWAY & SONS' PIANOS are the only American instruments exported to Europe in large numbers, and used in European concert rooms.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

THE ICE MARKET.

The Supply and Demand—The Annual Attempt to Raise the Rates—The Monopolists vs. The Independent Company—Plenty of Ice at Forty-two Cents a Week—How to Get it and How to Keep it.

"As the cold of snow in the time of harvest, so is a faithful messenger to them that send him," says the good book, and the experience of the human race from that time to this indorses the sentiment. Ice is no longer a luxury, it has become an antiseptic necessity; it must be had, and as long as Providence supplies it so bountifully as now, whoever stands in the way of its universal enjoyment trifles with the public weal and becomes a public nuisance. For many years the traffic in ice has been great and profitable, but of late a desire for monopoly has sprung up which has resulted in an absolute antagonism between the consumer and the supplier. Virtually our citizens are at the mercy of the Ice Dealers' Association. It makes but little difference whether ice is dear because of the scant crop, or because the dealers declined to gather a sufficient supply, the effect is equally pernicious in either case, and its remedy is a matter of public benefit. Unfortunately for the dealers, the ice demand is so interwoven with our social life that whoever attempts to trench too far upon the rights of the people is at once notified of his mistake and shown the necessity of correction. Very naturally and very selfishly the great ice companies here and hereabout have done their best, of late years, to get the most money for the least ice possible. The last three years have witnessed a degree of inconsiderateness on this point which it is difficult to reconcile with the most ordinary principles of equity and fair dealing. The people are long suffering, and bear in individual cases many things that should at once be thrown off; but it was learned so long ago as 1861, that forbearance had ceased to be a virtue and opposition was inaugurated.

When, however, new ice companies were started, the game of the combination became evident. Their plan of attack was invariably two-fold. In the first place they would attempt to buy the new comers off: if that failed they would lower their rates and starve them off. This never failed to secure the desired end, and so soon as death was certain, the public were invited to pay for the funeral, the rates being again advanced to an outrageous amount. To thinking men there has never been any good ground for the capricious action of the combination. The first cost of the ice is small, labor and storage are the only considerable items prior to the freightage, and as all of the larger companies lease their water, own their houses and barges, the actual expense incurred is ascertained to be very light, and almost nothing in comparison with the extortionate demands made from their customers.

Last year, our readers will remember, the TIMES discovered and exposed a combination among the ice-dealers to advance heavily in their charges, and a bitter contest was waged (on paper) between the discovered parties and the journals of the day, which was finally settled by the establishment of a new Company, the Brooklyn Ice Company, which fortunately, had the material with which to meet the popular demand, and the pluck and skill with which to fight the combination. Had it not been for this timely exposure, which was hailed and adopted by all our cotemporaries, the public would have been the sufferers to a very large amount; people would have been cheated out of their dues, and our middling and poorer classes would fain have passed the entire season without an ounce of the ice, which Providence had sent in such absolute abundance, and for which the greedy Companies were determined to make us pay roundly.

THIS YEAR'S PROSPECTS.

We learn that a similar attempt is to be made this year, that certain interested parties are to start the cry of small supply and great demand as a forerunner to the little circular, neatly printed, which will inform the public of the deep regret with which the Company announces a change and rise in price. There can be no good reason for this, as there is enough good ice on hand to meet every possible demand. Recently a statement has been issued from certain companies in which it is stated that the ice on hand belonging to the New-York Ice Company is as follows:

Place.	Tons.	Place.	Tons.
Athens	55,000	New-Baltimore	19,000
Catskill	50,000	Poughkeepsie	25,000
Evesport	13,000	Staatsburg	25,000
Mayboro	18,000
Total			205,000

The Knickerbocker Company, it was claimed, had on hand as follows:

Place.	Tons.	Place.	Tons.
Clearwater	17,000	New-Paltz	16,000
Coxsackie	30,000	Rhinebeck	25,000
Esopus	30,000	Rockland Lake	80,000
Kingston Creek	5,000	Turkey Point	10,000
Total			213,000

We learn from other sources that these estimates are largely under the fact, but granting their truthfulness, we find that there cannot be less on hand, available and ready for sale, than 1,000,000 tons of ice; and quite likely 1,500,000 tons would be nearer the mark. Always ready to avail themselves of the chances, the ice men are complaining now of the high rate of wages, the exorbitant prices of fodder and transportation, and the changeful severities of the past season, that have so "signally interfered with their operations."

THE RATES.

Already they have issued their Spring rates, and we shall not be surprised when the full Summer rates are furnished us at an advance. A card before us gives the rates of the combination, as follows:

10 to 12 lbs. per day, 60c. per week
15 lbs. per day, 75c. per week.
18 to 20 lbs. per day, $1 per week.
25 lbs and upwards, 60c. per 100 lbs.

If we were left to the guidance of our own experience and knowledge in the matter we should perhaps be compelled to acquiesce in the statements made as to the imperative necessity of such heavy demands, but, by a happy accident, we came across another company, for virtually the combination is but one mammoth concern, and we find that its charges are nothing like the others. We refer to the same organization that last year single-handed coped with the power of the monopolists, and supplied our citizens and those of Brooklyn with ice at a rate so low that the others were compelled to follow suit or lose their trade. The Brooklyn Ice Company furnishes ice now, and will continue to do so all Summer, at the same rates as charged last year, viz.:

Ten to twelve lbs. per day, 42 cents per week.
One hundred lbs. at 50 cents.

Here is a difference of eighteen cents a week, or nearly three cents a day, on the minimum amount; and the question naturally suggests itself, If the Brooklyn Ice Company (WM. M. ANDREWS & Co.,) can sell ice at such a rate, and make money at it, why should we be compelled by the monopolists to pay nearly 45 per centum more? The ice-houses may not be quite as full as they were last year, but no one will pretend that there is a scarcity, and if they do, how answer the rates of the independent company, which furnishes ice at forty-two cents?

HOW TO GET ICE.

The general public know but little concerning the ice crop, beyond the fact that most of it is cut on the river and lakes and ponds of the interior. The material and appliances for gathering and storing the ice are not very extensive, and are entirely American. When the ice is nine inches thick, or if for exportation twenty inches thick, the snow, if there be any, is cleaned off by wooden scrapers, each drawn by a single horse. Another scraper armed with a steel blade planes off the porous upper layer to the depth of three inches or more if necessary. The surface is then marked off in large squares by a sort of plow drawn by a horse, which cuts a grove about three inches deep. A machine somewhat like a harrow, with three or more parallel rows of teeth, which may be twenty-two inches apart is next drawn along the lines already made, one row of teeth running in the groove a guide; and as many more cuts are made as there are rows of teeth. This is repeated upon the cross lines, and the whole area is thus cut into small squares. A row of blocks is then sawn out by hand, and being taken out or thrust under the others, room is made for splitting off the adjoining squares, which is done by an ice-spade dropped into the grooves. This ends the cutting operation, and the ice is then ready for storage, transportation or immediate use. The men, when employed in great numbers and assisted in drawing out by a steam engine, gather from 300 to 600 tons per hour; so that the absurdity of small supply is readily exploded.

A progressive age has demonstrated many excellent modes of preserving the ice, and the companies of course avail themselves of all that science and experience can suggest. In following their example, the customers in the city would save to themselves money and annoyance. Many roll the ice in flannel or carpet; others put it in the cellar; others in an ordinary box or refrigerator. At the recent Fair of the American Institute a Mr. STEPHENS, of this City, exhibited a novelty in refrigerators made of slate, which subsequently took the first premium as being the best adapted for the preservation of ice and other material. To those who can afford it these are undoubtedly the most desirable, but to those who cannot the old-fashioned plan of a tight box and half a dozen folds of wollen carpet will readily suggest itself.

From the above resumé it will be seen that there is an abundance of ice in store, and that customers need not be concerned about a rise in price; if one Company will not furnish it at a reasonable rate, another will, and this knowledge will enable the public to bring the monopolists easily to terms.

ASIATIC CHOLERA.

Dr. Bissell's Latest Report—Protest of the England's Passengers—Letters from the Virginia's Passengers—Cholera at Halifax.

Dr. BISSELL's latest report, from the hospital-ship Falcon, dispatched on Thursday night, and received by Health-Officer SWINBURNE, at Staten Island, yesterday morning, reports that no new cases of cholera were taken aboard the Falcon on Thursday, and that the number of patients then was eighty-eight, nearly all doing well. Three persons died on Thursday, namely: HONORA SHEHAN, aged 25 years; MICHAEL MAHONY, aged 25 years; and MARY ARMSTRONG, aged 52 years. Six patients had been returned to the Illinois. A report of Dr. BISSELL's death was current in the City yesterday afternoon; but, happily, he has been ascertained to be recovering from the severe attack of diarrhoea which prostrated him early in the week. The passengers of the two vessels in quarantine are bountifully supplied with good provisions. Two thousand pounds of fresh beef are sent to them for consumption on each day.

PROTEST OF THE ENGLAND'S PASSENGERS.

On Thursday the passengers of the steamship England held a meeting to make protest against the action of the authorities in keeping them in quarantine. Mr. JOHN P. ROE was called to the chair; Mr. A. T. HARSHAW was chosen Secretary, and Capt. JAMES KENNEDY and Messrs. THOMAS ALLAN and JAMES BOOTHMAN were appointed a Committee on Resolutions. They reported as follows:

Resolved, That our detention on board the steamship England has been needlessly long, for the following reasons:

1. We have had no cholera on board for the last fifteen days.
2. That at Halifax the steamer was thoroughly cleansed, scraped, fumigated and whitewashed.
3. That no passengers were reëmbarked at Halifax but those who were in the most perfect health.
4. That when we left Halifax, in the opinion of the health officer of that port, we were perfectly free from cholera, as his "clean bill of health certifies."
5. That his opinion has been fully ratified, inasmuch as only one or two cases, strange to say, of simple diarrhoea have occurred.
6. The deaths we have had since we left Halifax have not at all been connected with cholera.
7. That if the infection of cholera was latent in the vessel, it would, (in the opinion of the medical men on board,) have developed itself long since.

Resolved, That the treatment we have received from the ship's commander, Capt. R. GRACE, and the officers and remainder the crew, has been uniformly kind and obliging.

Resolved, That the accommodation, food and attendance could not be better.

Resolved, That we sincerely request the attention of the health authorities of the port of New-York to the above resolutions, and sincerely hope they will favorably consider them.

THE MADISON-AVENUE BOND ROBBERY.

The Examination Resumed—The Informer Morrison again Sifted—More and More Strange Swearing—New Version of Old Stories—What "Cleaning Bonds" Means—The Witness Excited.

The investigation of the charges against CLARKE and DENNIS for being concerned in the robbery of bonds from the residence of Mr. MOORE, of Madison-avenue, was resumed yesterday at the Tombs, before Justice DOWLING. The witness MORRISON was recalled, and was cross-examined by Mr. GRAHAM. He testified as follows:

Before hiding the bonds in King-street, near the river, I gave ELLIS to sell three bonds of $500 and three of $100 each; it was dark when I placed the bonds among the lumber; the $19,450 was in my pocket up to 4 o'clock of the evening on which I deposited it in the pile of lumber; I received $9,000 and upward from CLARKE and DENNIS on the day in which I hid it; this sum is included in the $19,450; had no other hiding-place that I recollect but the Central Park and the fence behind my house before I used the lumber pile near the river; when I had the bonds upon my person I kept them in a kind of leather envelope; I think it was in Nassau-street that I gave the $1,800 in bonds to Mr. ELLIS; I don't remember what time of day; he had sold some such things before for me—some bonds; he sold $1,000 worth of 5-20s some weeks before, which I bought from FISK & HATCH, of Nassau-street; he also sold some 7.30s for me—three or four prices, amounting to $2,000 or more; this was about two months since; I got those 7.30s from Mr. FRANK GLEESON; they were his; I did not give him the money, although I sold them for him; knew Mr. ELLIS for about a year; don't know how I made his acquaintance; Mr. ELLIS belonged to the same regiment as I do, therefore we met often; I am Captain of Company B, Seventy-ninth Regiment; Mr. ELLIS is Captain of Company G; I have been with the regiment since 1859; GLEESON brought the bonds to my house; it was a loan from him; I may have paid this money I had from GLEESON to CLARKE and DENNIS—part of it or all of it; I may have used it for payment of wages; it might have been a week before I deposited the bonds amid the lumber that hid them in the Central Park; I think I was at the Park twice; I don't remember whether in March or April; when I went to meet the parties (CLARKE and DENNIS) I did not keep the bonds I had previously received upon my person; I may have removed one or two pieces upon my second visit to the Park which I did not give up to the officers; I hid the bonds in a hole in the grass; I don't think I made a hole; I covered them up with old leaves and stones and earth: I don't know if there was a kind of mound made by the rubbish; I believe I took out two or three thousand dollars to try to sell them.

Q.—If you had only six thousand dollars in the Park at this time, as you now say you had, and the Detectives only showed Mr. MOORE $9,450 which they had recovered, where were the other three thousand odd at this time? A.—I had them stowed away somewhere; I can't tell where; I think I gave the officers bonds three times; I went for the bonds myself; it was part of the agreement that I should do so, and that I should surrender all I could; I first gave up the $19,450 which I had stowed in the woodpile; then the $6,000 which was hid in the Park; then I gave the other $3,000, I think, to Capt. YOUNG; I don't want to say where the $3,000 were; I won't say. (Justice DOWLING instructed the witness that he must answer.) They were stowed away in the basement in my house, under the stones in the passage, the night before I gave them to Capt. YOUNG; prior to that they were in the house of a friend, at No. 285 Spring-street, named WALSH, who keeps a public house there; I took over $3,000 there; I hid them in a back woodhouse, purporting to go to the water-closet; these bonds had been at Central Park; I brought them from this place to my own house, where I put them under the stone.

Q.—Now you have stated on three several occasions, three different times when you allege that you placed the bonds in the wood-pile—Saturday, Sunday and Monday—which of these, if either, do you now say was the time of your making this deposit? A.—On Saturday; when I was in custody of the officers in my own house, they allowed me to leave the room to go to the water-closet; I then went to the back yard and climbed over two fences into Spring-street, over my own fence and my neighbors; I was not over ten minutes gone; I did not suppose that the officers knew where I was going; there was nothing said at that time about bonds; nobody knew but myself that that was a mere sham to get out for the bonds, which were at the wood-pile; it was broad daylight when I went; I did not wish to tell the Police where the bonds were; the reason why I did not tell them was that I might have had something else there.

Q.—Had you anything else there?—what about the gold watch? A.—I broke it up; it was a number 26: the trade size; they (CLARKE and DENNIS) told me to chuck it in the river.

Q.—Why did they not pitch it into the river themselves? A.—They did not want to touch it again, I suppose.

It was a part of that which I bought from them; I broke up the watch with pincers; I melted the material and sold it; I don't know what I did with the gold, nor the works, nor how much I got for it; my son, who is 23 years of age, had these bonds in his hands when DENNIS gave them to him; he could see everything; the bonds were open, he could see everything; as soon as I came into the house I got the bonds and watch; I put the watch in my pocket because it was not proper to keep that kind of thing lying about; I knew that they were stolen property before I was told that they were such.

Q.—If you were not an old receiver, how could you know that it was stolen property when DENNIS did not say so to you? A.—I have said before that I have done things wrong.

Q.—How long have you been a receiver of stolen property? A.—I think it would criminate me to answer that question.

Q.—How long have you been engaged in doing the wrong thing you spoke of? A.—A don't know how I can answer that.

Q.—Has it been two years? A.—Yes—not three nor five; I broke up many a watch before this one; I have no doubt that I bought stolen silver and gold before this time, having no doubt that it was stolen; I owe the $6,000 to FRANK GLEESON still, which I borrowed from him; he brought it to my own house to me; he had no interest in my transactions; Officer MCCORD came to my house and told me that there was a large robbery which had been committed, and gave me one of the notices of reward; I promised to help him all I could; he may have known that I was a receiver of stolen property. At that very time I knew all about the bonds; I wanted to hold the money bonds, but intended to try and get the railway bonds, because I thought if the owner had these he would be less anxious about the money.

The witness was here examined at considerable length in reference to the time when he first met DENNIS, but nothing of importance was brought out, the inconsistencies of the witness ceasing to be novelties. He stated that he met a person named CARROL, prior to his meeting DENNIS, on the occasion of his first interview after the robbery. He walked with CARROL and conversed with him over an hour; they then met DENNIS, but he did not introduce CARROL to DENNIS.

Q.—Did you ever hear of CARROL as Dutch Dan? A.—Yes.

Q.—Do you know PETER HEFFERNAN? A.—Yes, Sir; he is now in the State Prison; I know TRISTRAM, also, who robbed the Adams Express; he is in prison, also; my house was searched three months ago for some silk which had been stolen; I am now bail for Mr. ELLIS.

Q.—Did you know Capt. YOUNG? A.—I know him to see him.

Q.—Did you know Officer MCCORD? A.—No.

Mr. GRAHAM—Why, you swore a few minutes ago that you did know him. Please be a little more careful in your swearing; it is quite unpleasant to listen to you.

WITNESS—I expect to get clear of this difficulty; I may not; I am in doubt about it; I thought if I turned State's evidence that I should get off myself; I have had no counsel; no one told me that I should get off; I asked the District-Attorney, I think, what would be done with me; he said, I think, that the State would protect me.

Q.—Now, had not you a perfect idea that if you gave up the property, that you would be safe? A.—I had in my own mind.

Mr. GRAHAM here made the prisoner repeat the story of the transaction between himself and DENNIS, or rather he elicited from him a new one; he tried to account for having the money which he first gave to DENNIS, by stating that he sold some diamonds and things to a peddler called LEVI. He stated further that at the second interview with CLARKE and DENNIS, DENNIS told him that they had a few more bonds left, about $65,000 he thought.

To account for the inconsistencies in his testimony following after this, MORRISON stated he felt very much excited; that he could not swear the same as he did on Wednesday; that he was not in a condition to give evidence. He spoke of a sum of $400 in bonds which he could still recover, he thought, when he searched for it in the places where he had hidden the others, but he was unable to account for the fact that this small sum was separated from the rest.

Q.—What did you mean about the cleaning of the bonds about which you spoke on Wednesday? A.—I meant to get the writing off; CLARKE said he knew where he could get it well done; I have no friend who could clean such bonds; I was discharged on Tuesday morning; I walked away from Capt. YOUNG's house; I am on bail now, but simply to be a witness; I went to Capt. YOUNG's house after this to make arrangements necessary to effect the arrest of CLARKE and DENNIS.

Q.—Didn't the officer suggest that you should go and keep your appointment with CLARKE and DENNIS, and sit down with them, so that they could be there arrested? A.—I think he said something like that.

The remainder of the testimony which followed here was a repetition of the story of the arrest of CLARKE and DENNIS, already given.

During the last two hours of his examination the witness was in a most excited state, evidenced by the nervous shaking of his hands and the utter confusion of his answers. The cross-examination by Mr. GRAHAM ended about 3 o'clock, when the further hearing of the case was adjourned till Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

METROPOLITAN BOARD OF HEALTH.

The Sanitary Committee's Circulars of Advice to the Public—Letter from Health Officer Swinburne—Communication from the Quarantine Commissioners—The Citizens' Association Before the Board—Other Matters.

At the meeting of the Metropolitan Board of Health yesterday, all the Commissioners present but Dr. SWINBURNE, Counsellor ALLEN, to whom had been referred the subject of removing the cellar population of this City to suitable places of abode, reported that under the fourteenth section of the Health Law any cellar may be condemned as "premises in a condition dangerous to life and health," and under the Proclamation of Peril the Board may order such cellar to be cleared, and its use for dwelling and lodging apartments discontinued, "as being needful for preventing the spread of cholera this year;" but, added Counselor TRACY, "such order would be more clearly right when the cholera shall exist in the district, and its spreading may be possible." Counselor TRACY further said: "The Board may now proceed by orders against particular cellars which may be complained of, examined and reported against in due form. The proceedings then would be under motion, and if the cholera appears in town before the final order is executed, such final order may take the additional force of the 5th clause of the proclamation; but it would be valid without that aid. I do not find any express authority to remove the people from such cellars unless actually sick; but the powers of the Board to prevent a continuance of a dangerous use of the premises is clear."

THE SANITARY COMMITTEE'S CIRCULAR.

Dr. STONE, from the Sanitary Committee, submitted the following timely and important paper:

The Board of Health publish this simple statement, and beg the public to give to it their earnest attention.

Cholera is generally a preventible disease, and in its early stages can be arrested, if the habits be good. Study, therefore, temperance in eating and drinking. Do not believe that alchoholic stimulants are useful in guarding you against an attack. Let the food be nutritious, and keep the digestive organs in a healthful condition. Use no stale or uncooked vegetables. Let your meat be fresh and your vegetables be well cooked, and all fruits be fresh and ripe.

Cleanliness of the body is of the first consideration. Keep the skin in a healthy state by bathing the whole body, with a free use of soap. Cold bathing is best used in the morning—never just before going to bed. Dry frictions or the warm bath may be more safely used just before going to bed.

Cleanliness in your homes is of equal importance. Let your apartments be dry—never damp. Suffer no decayed vegetables or stagnant water to remain in your cellars or yards. Any disagreeable smell from privies, cess-pools, or sinks, is a proof of their unhealthfulness. Remove them by necessary repairs, lime, chloride of lime, or whitewashing. Ventilate well your houses and apartments. Expose your bedding to the air and sun. Avoid excessive fatigues, keep regular hours in eating and sleeping. Wear flannels next to the skin. A good plan is, if the bowels are at all disordered, to wear a broad band of flannel (a flannel belly-band) around the body, reaching from the hips to the ribs, maintain the natural temperature of the body by sufficient clothing; especially keep the feet warm. Never, when heated, sit on the grass or stone seats, or sleep under an open window. If exposed to wet, change your boots and clothes as soon as possible.

Take no purgative medicines, except by direction of a physician.

By order of the Board of Health.

EMMONS CLARK, Secretary.

TREATMENT OF CHOLERA.

Cholera is almost invariably preceded by a painless diarrhoea, and this is in all cases to be promptly treated. When diarrhoea is present, go to bed and maintain a position on the back. Use abundance of blankets and send for a physician.

A physician can always be obtained by applying to the nearest Police-station.

Stay in bed until you are well. Do not consider yourself well until you have had a movement from the bowels. Abstain from all drinks. Apply mustard-plasters to the bowels.

In the absence of a physician, an adult can take ten drops of laudanum and ten drops of spirits of camphor. A child of ten years may take five drops of laudanum and five of camphor. A child of five years may take three drops of laudanum and three of spirits of camphor, and these doses may be repeated every twenty minutes, so long as diarrhoea or pain or vomiting continue. This will save time; but in all cases send for a physician.

Do not get up to pass the evacuations, but use the bed-pan or other conveniences. Never chill the surface of the body by getting out of bed.

Remove immediately all the evacuations from your rooms, scald all the utensils used, or disinfect them with chloride of lime; scald, also, your soiled clothing.

By order of the Board of Health.

EMMONS CLARKE, Secretary.

After remarks by Commissioner BERGEN, Judge BOSWORTH, and President SCHULTZ, it was ordered that the Secretary of the Board cause 30,000 copies of circulars printed on cards and circulated throughout the Metropolitan District.

LETTER FROM DR. SWINBURNE.

HEALTH OFFICE, QUARANTINE, S. I., April 27, 1866.

To the Metropolitan Board of Health:

GENTLEMEN: In my report of yesterday I apprised you of the condition of the vessels and the persons under quarantine. I now furnish you a more detailed and particular account of the same, and desire your honorable body to designate the time when the passengers (or any of them) will be permitted to land, if released from quarantine.

The steamship England left Queenstown with one thousand two hunnred and two passengers, and arrived at Halifax on the 9th inst., having had many cases of cholera and about fifty deaths during the passage. She was detained at quarantine in Halifax until the 18th inst., during which time (according to report) one hundred and fifty died. While at Halifax the passengers were all removed and the vessel cleansed. On the evening of the 18th she left for New-York, having only eight hundred and ninety-one passengers on board of the original twelve hundred and two. It is now ten days since she left Halifax, and no cholera has reappeared—all are in apparent good health.

The Virginia left Liverpool on the 4th inst., with one thousand and forty-three passengers, and arrived at quarantine on the afternoon of the 18th, having had thirty-eight deaths from cholera during the passage. Cases have continued daily to occur among the steerage passengers and crew, the cabin passengers (as with the England) have been exempt. The steerage passengers were all transferred to the Illinois on the 21st, since which time no cases have occurred among the crew of the Virginia. She is now undergoing a continued process of cleansing.

Of the sixty sick passengers of the England left at Halifax, fifty are now convalescent, and await transportation to New-York. The same question is pertinent in regard to them. When released from quarantine, will either of these vessels be permitted to discharge cargo at the wharves of the City?

In yesterday's report I showed (as I think) conclusively that the transfer of the sick to the hospital ship was, under the circumstances, eminently proper and judicious, and sanctioned by time-honored customs, and shows how much foundation there was for the attack made upon me in the remarkable report recently made by Drs. DALTON and HARRIS, to your Board. I speak of it as remarkable, because it was the report of the appointees of the Board criticising and censuring the official acts of one of its own members in a matter over which the Board has no jurisdiction, and I cannot but express my surprise that such a document from subordinates should have been received by the Board, and passed over quietly without rebuke to its authors.

At least a month prior to the England's arrival at Halifax I had secured the services of Dr. D. H. BISSELL, whose familiarity and long connection with the Marine Hospital entitled him to the utmost confidence. At the time, and prior to the arrival of the Virginia, he was engaged in supervising the fitting up of the hospital ship for the reception of the cholera sick, proceeded with her to the lower bay, and superintended the transfer of the sick. Dr. HARCOURT, whose name was mentioned in yesterday's report as having been so long and honorably connected with quarantine, joined him in associate labor.

Taking into consideration the gravity of the disease as here exhibited, the success attendant thereon was most marked. After the first few hours consumed in the preparation for and reception of the sick, there has been no lack of medical assistance or proper care.

Respectfully, JOHN SWINBURNE, Health Officer.

Secretary CLARK having finished the reading of this paper, the President paused for comment; but no Commissioner offering any remark, Judge BOSWORTH moved that the letter be referred to the Sanitary Committee, and it was so ordered.

LETTER FROM THE QUARANTINE COMMISSIONERS.

To the Metropolitan Board of Health:

GENTLEMEN: The Quarantine Commissioners, since the arrival of the steamship Virginia, having applied to the General Government for permission to use a portion of Sandy Hook temporarily for the purpose of landing well passengers arriving in cholera-infected ships, a large number of whom are now in the Lower Bay, and more daily expected, rendering it impossible to find floating accommodations for them, and humanity as well as sanitary necessity requiring disembarkation, and being unsuccessful in procuring permission to use Sandy Hook for that purpose, we are under the necessity of applying to your honorable body, in the hope that under the powers granted by the Metropolitan Health Bill you may feel authorized to place at the disposal of your Commission some point of land within the jurisdiction of the Metropolitan Health Commissioners, and susceptible of being sufficiently available for the purpose above-mentioned.

With great respect, we have the honor to be,
Yours, &c.,
CYRUS CURTIS,
W. C. ANDERSON,
WILLIAM A. COBB,
Quarantine Commissioners.

The prevailing opinion was that the Health Commissioners have no status in Quarantine. The letter was filed.

THE CITIZENS' ASSOCIATION.

A Committee from the Citizens' Association, accompanied by Messrs. JAMES BROWN, of the firm of BROWN BROTHERS, C. A. DETMOLD, ARCHIBALD RUSSELL, and Professors R. OGDEN DOREMUS and ST. JOHN, having entered the Board Room, President SCHULTZ introduced the gentlemen, and Mr. JOHN A. WEEKS informed the Board that Prof. DOREMUS had come with charts and statistics showing that the gas companies are consuming an inferior quality of coal, which eliminates carburetted hydrogen and sulphuretted hydrogen, creating an intolerable stench within a radius of half a mile from the gas-houses—a stench which must be productive of disease. Drs. PARKER and STONE replied that they had instituted inquiries and were patiently investigating this subject, but as the hour was late, they would propose that the Committee appear before them in the Board Room at 3:30 o'clock on Monday afternoon next. The suggestion was favorably entertained by the Committee, and they departed, promising to meet the Sanitary Committee of the Board of Health at 3:30 P. M. on Monday, in the Trial Chamber at Police Headquarters. An invitation is extended to the public to be present.

BROOKLYN TO BE CLEANED.

Commissioner BERGEN introduced the following preamble and resolution, and they were adopted:

Whereas, It appears from the reports of the officers of this Board, that many of the streets and parts of streets of the City of Brooklyn are in a condition prejudicial to the public health; and,

Whereas, Notice has been served on the city authorities to have them cleaned and the objections removed; and,

Whereas, No effective steps have been taken to have them properly cleaned, but many of the streets remain in a condition prejudicial to the public health; and,

Whereas, There is great and imminent peril to the public health from the Asiatic cholera; and

Whereas, Section 11, chapter 74, of the Laws of New-York for 1866 confers extraordinary powers upon this Board in certain contingencies, and this Board, together with the Governor of the State, have taken the steps provided in said section "when in the presence of great and imminent peril to the public health," by which power is given to summarily clean the streets of this portion of said district embraced within the City of Brooklyn; and

Whereas, Said streets and parts of streets, if not cleaned, might, in the opinion of this Board, tend to develop or increase the cholera this year, therefore,

Resolved, That a Committee be appointed to report to this Board a feasible plan to thoroughly clean up the filthy streets of said City, and to have the manure, garbage and filth removed to some proper place or places within thirty days.

OTHER MATTERS.

A voluminous memorial was received from Dr. SAYRE, and without reading it was ordered on file.

On motion of Dr. CRANE the Commissioners of Quarantine and Commissioners of Emigration are to be requested to appoint from their bodies a committee to meet a committee from the Board of Health, to confer in relation to the adoption of such measures as shall insure mutual coöperation for the prevention of the spread of disease. Drs. CRANE and STONE and President SCHULTZ, were constituted the Health Board's committee.

It was voted that Dr. STEPHEN SMITH consult with the trustees of the several dispensaries to inquire how far they will coöperate with the Board of Health; that Dr. SMITH report immediately to the Sanitary Committee upon this matter, and also upon the organization of a moveable corps for house-visitation and upon the formation of a body of nurses to be used in case of an epidemic.

President SCHULTZ reported that he had selected as the three newspapers to publish the Health Code, the Evening Post, the Commercial Advertiser, and the Brooklyn Eagle. He had, he said, selected the three journals which had put in the lowest bids.

Dr. PARKER presented a petition from many citizens of New-Rochelle, praying for the abatement of Crystal Lake, that body of water being, in their opinion, a nuisance.

Assistant Sanitary Inspectors GEORGE W. HOSMER and LEONARD WEBER sent in letters of resignation, and these were accepted.

The President presented a petition of one hundred and eighty-six citizens, requesting the Board to close Mr. J. J. ECKEL's fat-boiling establishment and a like establishment belonging to the Butchers' Association, situate in East Forty-fifth-street, near the river.

A communication was read from the New-York Homeopathic Medical Society—a society representing three hundred physicians of good standing—offering to furnish physicians to treat homeopathically any cholera patients which may be intrusted to their care, and petitioning for the establishment of a cholera hospital in New-York and one in Brooklyn, wherein patients may be treated by homeopathic physicians. The letter was referred to the Sanitary Committee.

THE HUMANITIES OF WAR.

A Lecture by Hon. James T. Brady.

Hon. JAMES T. BRADY delivered an interesting lecture on the above-named subject, last evening, in the hall of the Cooper Institute, before a large and quite enthusiastic audience. The lecture was given under the auspices of the Union War Prisoners' Association, and the proceeds are to be devoted to the reconstruction of the Orphan Asylum of Charleston, South Carolina, under the charge of Bishop LYNCH, of that city. The platform was occupied by the members of the War Prisoners' Association, and a large number of distinguished clergymen and laymen. After announcing that on Monday evening next, April 30, there would be a grand concert and bazaar at Cooper Institute, the proceeds of which would be used for the same purpose as the proceeds of his lecture, Mr. BRADY proceeded to speak of his subject, "The Humanities of War." It was necessary, he thought, to say a few words about the grim-visaged aspects of war, in order that its humanities might be understood and appreciated. Philosophers in all ages of the world had advanced widely different theories upon the subject of war, some contending that man's natural state was one of war, and others holding the directly opposite doctrine. But, said the lecturer, in my own humble and unphilosophical opinion these theories have not the slightest value or importance. War is a result of the exercise of that principle which we call combativeness, which is as essential to the thorough development of our nature as is the exercise of any other faculty that resides in us, but which, like every other quality of ours, may produce great injury when overexercised or abused. The principle of combativeness resides in every sentient creature, and is often found stronger in the most inferior of created things. In former ages, a state of war was considered to be a dissolution of all moral ties, and a license for every kind of outrage. And even in later, and what we are accustomed to call more civilized times, and in civilized nations there have been many instances where war has been waged in the old barbaric spirit, while in savage countries, according to modern travelers, they make war upon each other now as fiercely and cruelly as it was ever made of old. But although these barbarous features have marked warfare from the beginning. Yet from the earliest time there have been some enlightened instances in which the contrary spirit has prevailed. We are told by history of one of the greatest Generals that the world has ever known, CYRUS, that he very wisely preferred his generosity, bounty and charity to his military virtues, and chose rather to make himself loved for the former than feared for the latter. Civilized public opinion in its progress has taken away many of the most dreadful features of war. The practice of killing or enslaving prisoners, gave way during the middle ages to the milder one of requiring a pecuniary ransom; and later was instituted the more manly rule of exchanging prisoners. But above all things that ever came upon the earth to mitigate the rancorous severity of men in physical conflict, the most beautiful was the flag of truce, and after it the parole. I am happy to say that amidst the grim records of war in the past, there are many gleams of light and beauty, for history abounds with instances of generosity and magnanimity on the part of warriors in all periods. But let us come down to our own experience in our late struggle, which is without a parallel in the history of the world, and about which I wish, from the bottom of my heart and the profoundest depths of my soul, that Americans, whether born at the North or the South, the East or the West, would begin to take but one single view. [Applause.] I thank God that the European Governments had nothing to do with it. It was a quarrel among ourselves only, and it was so majestic in its proportions that even when we were engaged in it, at its height, I think we could have whipped any other nation on the face of the earth. [Applause.] I wish, I say, that all Americans now would take but one view of that great struggle, and I think it is about time that men who, like myself, never stood within range of a bullet and never smelt powder except on the Fourth of July, should give up making invidious comparisons between the courage, the honor, or the endurance of the North and the South. [Laughter and cheers.] In examining the record of our civil war I shall not dwell upon the painful pages of it. Heaven knows there are enough such; but I prefer to lock away from the darkness toward the light.

The lecturer spoke eloquently and at length of the tender ministrations of the women of the North and of the South, to the suffering soldiers on both sides during the war, particularly of the noble work done by the Sisters of Charity, and of the kindness of Bishop LYNCH, of Charleston, to the Union prisoners confined there. He then described humorously, and to the great gratification of the audience, the amusing side of the experience of the members of the Union War Prisoners' Association at the South, and concluded as follows: Such things as I have described to you, under the benign protection and encouragement of true benevolence, will do more to restore the Union than all the demagogues and rabid fanatics and traitors to the Constitution who are now vexing the country by their assumed efforts for the attainment of that end. [Applause.] Under the Divine influence of such things, our people from the Aroostook to the Pacific Ocean will soon become willing to forget the past, to shake hands as Americans, and to thank God that we are still possessed of one country, one Constitution, one destiny. [Applause.] So we may show that we deserve the tribute wrung from the greatest commoner of England, the Chancellor of the Exchequer, that we are "a great and mighty nation." [Applause.] In the name of these soldiers, I again thank you for your attendance here to-night. I beg you to employ your influence to still further advance this cause. Wherever the fatherless and the motherless reside around their asylum the arms of society should be lovingly folded. No distinction of race or creed should ever be allowed to interpose. There are many things in the past to look at with regret, from whatever standpoint the retrospect may be taken. We cannot help reverting, in thought at least, to the fierce tempest of civil war which has desolated so much of our land. But we must not linger in the gloom of that spectacle. Rather let us peer through the dark clouds that would bound our spiritual vision back to the memory of those brilliant deeds of humanity which appear like stars of holiest light, shedding their radiance upon the red surges of angry battle. [Loud applause.]

The Excise Commission.

Messrs. ACTON and BERGEN, the Excise Commissioners' Committee on Applications for Licenses, were run down by applicants yesterday. Among the visitors were Ex-Gov. HORATIO SEYMOUR, "Governor" DAVIS, of Coney Island, and Mr. GEORGE LAW. Inspector BARTRAM, also, entertained several delegations of liquor-dealers; but no definite action was taken. The venders were instructed to apply to the Captains of Police in their respective precincts, and obtain from them the necessary application blanks. The Police Captains have been ordered to withhold these blanks from all dealers whom they are not willing to recommend as suitable persons to sell liquor; they are in no case to give a blank to a woman. No person can grant a license until Tuesday next, when the Excise Commissioners will meet, and take final action on the proposition to make three classes of license.

THE TURF.

Trotting on the Fashion Course.

FASHION COURSE, L. I., APRIL 27.—Purse $100, mile heats, best three in five, in harness:

D. PFIFER named b. m. Lida	1	1	1
D. MACE named b. g. Sam	2	2	2
J. SOMERINDYKE, named b. g. Peddler	4	4	3
A. PATTERSON named b. g. ——	3	3	4
J. WOOD named b. g. George	dis.

TIME:

	Quar. Mile.	Half Mile.	Mile.
First heat	39 sec.	1.18	2.41
Second heat	39 sec.	1.18	2.37
Third heat	40 sec.	1.17	2.39

This was the third of the series of purses for the Spring trotting season, offered by the proprietor of the Fashion Course. The attendance was good, the day fine, although somewhat chilly, and the track in good order, although the wind that prevailed was against the making of fast time. The purse was for horses that at the time of entry had never trotted in public, and had eleven enteries, of which the above named six came to the post when the judge's bell summoned the horses for the start. The absentees were T. CREGAN's Lady Hunter, S. R. PERKINS' Toby Candor, R. OGLE's Lady Marcelline, J. CROOK's New-York, Owner's Cassius M. Clay, Jr., and M. C. SMITH's Kate Atwood. From the great private reputation for speed that DAN PFIFER's mare Lida enjoyed, she was made a strong favorite in the betting, $100 to $50 being freely offered on her beating the field. In the pools she sold for $65, Sam $25, and the others bunched for $8. She won in three straight heats very cleverly, justifying the good opinion entertained of her merits by her backers. PFIFER drove her in his usual steady, masterly style, and the fine condition in which she was in, reflected credit on his skill as a trainer. Sam, who had done no work since the trot last week, in which he hit his leg, proved himself the sound, game horse his owner has always maintained him to be, and when really in condition, he will be a difficult horse to beat. The winner belongs to Mr. WHITEHOUSE, of Peekskill, and is a very handsome, promising mare; her steady style of going was generally admired.

FIRST HEAT.—Peddler and George had the best of the send-off, Lida third and Sam next. Going around the turn George broke, and Lida taking the lead was a length ahead of Sam at the quarter pole—time 39 seconds. Lida still kept ahead along the back-stretch, past the old stand, and at the half-mile pole was three lengths before Sam, who was a length ahead of the bay gelding—time 1:18. The favorite evidently had the others safe from this point, for she came away easily within herself, and crossed the score a winner by three lengths, Sam second, Patterson b. g. third, Peddler fourth, and George distanced. Time 2:41.

SECOND HEAT.—Betting $100 to $30 on Lida. A very indifferent start was effected. Patterson b. g. taking the lead, Lida and Sam close together, and Peddler last. In this order they went around the turn, but at the quarter-pole the favorite was leading, with Sam, who had broken, second, and Patterson third. Time, 39 seconds. Going past the old stand Patterson passed Sam and made play for Lida, but could not quite reach her, as she led half-a-length past the half-mile pole in 1:18. On the Flushing stretch these two were lapped, and a fine struggle ensued into the home-stretch, when the gelding broke and the mare came away by herself, winning the heat easily, by three lengths, in 2:37, being four seconds faster than the preceding heat. Sam was second, having passed the bay gelding when the latter broke, and Peddler last.

THIRD HEAT.—No betting, as the race seemed a certainty for Lida. Nearly one hour was wasted in scoring, owing to Peddler and Sam alternately breaking as they approached the score. Sam got the best send-off, with the favorite second, and the former quietly took the inside track, but, breaking at the turn, Lida passed him, and was a length ahead at the quarter-pole in forty seconds, the bay gelding being second. The favorite led along the back stretch to the half-mile pole, which she passed two lengths ahead in 1:17, Sam half a length ahead of the bay, and Peddler out of the race. Lida led throughout, and won easily by two lengths, the others all crossing the score on a run. Time—2:39.

ALBANY, Friday, April 27.

CATTLE—The market for beeves has fluctuated considerably during the past week. At the opening trade was rather slow, at a decline of ½c. ℔ lb., live weight, the impression being that the supply for New-York would be largely in excess of the demand; but Eastern parties bought freely to-day, and the latest information being that the run over the road is light, holders advanced their views at least $5 per head, and maintained the rise firmly to the close. HOW IT IS.—Some people cannot understand why the Hats made by KNOX should exceed all others in popularity. A glance at his Spring style explains the mystery. It is graceful and durable, and has an air of fashion about it that is irresistible. Sold at No. 533 Broadway, under the Prescott House, and No. 151 Fulton-st., near Broadway.

"A SHOCKING BAD HAT."—Such is the popular phrase. Like all other popular phrases, it has reason in it. A bad hat is "shocking," and no gentleman will wear one when he can get a handsome and artistic tile of KNOX'S Spring style for very little money, at No. 533 Broadway, under the Prescott House, or No. 151 Fulton-st., near Broadway.

This Company offers greater inducements for investments than any Stock Company now in existence.

The object of the Company is to afford facilities to the impoverished Cotton and Sugar Planters of the South to grow and get their crops to market, always taking good and satisfactory security by mortgage, on their plantation and crops, for money advanced in procuring supplies, paying labor, and other necessary expenses incidental to the development of the soil.

CAPITAL AND LABOR are the universal requirements of the largest portion of the SOUTHERN STATES, and when judiciously applied, no matter by whom furnished, will restore that portion of our unfortunate country to its former prosperity, and make the South all that Nature designed it, THE GARDEN OF THE WORLD.

BIOKRENE, OR LIFE REJUVENATOR.

The uses of this powerful Vegetable Invigorant may be summed up in a few words. It relieves with absolute certainty all disabilities, cures nervous debility of every type, restores the exhausted powers, after long-continued sickness; prevents and arrests premature decay, is a vitalizing, strength-renewing cordial to the aged; may be relied on by woman in all her physical difficulties as a harmless and sure restorative. It is an antidote to the consequences of early indiscretion, has no equal as a stomachic in cases of dyspepsia, sustains not only the physical strength but the constitution itself, and is in all respects the best tonic depurative and antibilious cordial in existence.

Below read a few extracts from letters daily received:
